Success Crowns Conference to Outlaw War in Europe

Powers Reach Entire Accord On Peace Pact

France, Germany and Belgium Agree to Abstain From Attacks—Britain and Italy Make Guarantee

Force to Follow Broken Promises

Arbitration of Disputes Made Obligatory by Locarno Treaty—Concessions Are Made Berlin and Paris

LOCARNO, Oct. 15.—Just as the armistice ended the Great War, so today treaties making history were adopted at Locarno designed to make impossible any reopening of that great war, when Germany and the Allied Powers approved the text of the Rhine pact of security.

This pact, which will be initiated tomorrow or Saturday, pledges its signatories, France, Germany and Belgium, not to attack or invade one another's territory and to abstain from war. Great Britain and Italy stand as guarantors of this engagement and promise to throw their forces against any of the three parties which violate its terms.

French Keep Certain Rights

France is allowed to keep certain rights embodied in the Treaty of Versailles, and notably may take immediate action should Germany commit a hostile act by constructing fortifications either on the left bank of the Rhine or within fifty kilometers (about thirty miles) of its east bank, or keep armed forces within that area.

Shipping Is Demoralized By Dense Fog

Marine Mishaps Grow in Number as Rolling Vapors Blind Navigators—Eemdyk Still Ashore

Sailings Cancelled As Mists Continue

Iyo Maru Reaches William Head After Blundering on Shoals Near Carmanah Point

Wednesday's worst fog in years continued to blanket the city and the Gulf of Georgia yesterday with disastrous results to shipping schedules, although early this morning, the slowly rolling vapors had thinned perceptibly.

Inwardbound from Japan, the Iyo Maru blundered ashore near Carmanah Point yesterday. She was not badly damaged, however, and backed off again about an hour later. She arrived at William Head, late last night.

The gasboat Bonilla and the seine boat Pachena are hard and fast ashore at Ninilat Lake, near Bamfield.

Salvors have not yet loosened the grip of the Bentinck Island rocks on the hull of the Holland-America liner Eemdyk.

The Jericho Beach seaplane G.N. is being towed to Esquimalt from the vicinity of Carmanah Point, where it was forced down on Wednesday afternoon through engine failure.

Ships Tied Up

At all ports of the Strait, the Gulf and the Sound ships have been lying idly at their berths, waiting for the blinding fog to lift.

Mariners cannot predict when this will happen. Whenever it does, hawsers will be heaved over the sides of docks, propellers will churn, and the commerce of the sea will resume.

The Empress of Russia, bound for the Orient, will leave Vancouver for Victoria. (She may arrive here at noon today, Mr. L. D. Chetnam, local agent, said last night). Bound ultimately for Yokohama, the Iyo Maru will leave her Seattle pier and steam to this port. The Emma Alexander, coastal liner in the California trade, will also venture forth from the Puget Sound harbor where she has been hugging the dock for many hours.

The ferryboat Puget, on the Sidney-Anacortes run, did not operate yesterday, and will not today, unless weather conditions ameliorate.

The Princess Kathleen could not make her scheduled trip to Seattle yesterday afternoon, and the Princess Adelaide was still berthed at the Outer Wharf at an early hour this morning waiting for visibility to improve.

Train Burns After Smash In Mountains

Passenger Express Crashes Into Freight in Snowshed West of Denver—Flames Wipe Out Coaches

Passengers Come Through Unharmed

Blaze Razes Four Hundred Feet of Snowshed—Fire Fighters Work in Ten Above Zero

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 15.—Smashing into a freight train in a snowshed at Corona, Colorado, in the frozen peaks of the Continental Divide, a Denver and Salt Lake passenger train was destroyed by fire which swept through its coaches after the collision early today.

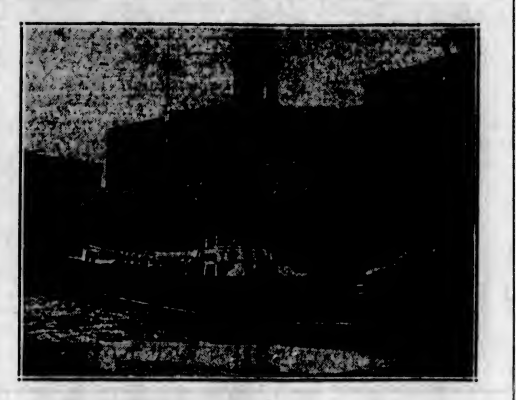

More than 100 passengers awakened by the impact, hurriedly dressed and left the train without disorder. There was no loss of life.

Fire fighters, battling the flames in ten-above-zero weather, brought the blaze under control after it had destroyed more than 400 feet of the snowshed, which is two miles long. A stove, overturned in a caboose of the freight, is believed to have caused the fire.

Corona is in the Rocky Mountains west of Denver, 10,990 feet above sea level. Several inches of snow fell there last night.

The doomed train, No. 2, Denver-bound, consisted of a baggage car, two coaches and a Pullman. The stranded passengers were sheltered at Corona until a relief train arrived to bring them to Denver.

Britons Return From Frozen North After Adventurous Summer Trip

Above, the island, the steamer in which the British Arctic Expedition, now safe back at Spitzbergen, spent three months touring the North. The photo was taken at Liverpool prior to the departure of the party for the Arctic, a little more than three months ago. At the left is Gretir Algarsson, the young British Columbian, who, with Commander Frank Worsley, led the party.

The expedition had an adventurous voyage and made some important discoveries. Early in the trip the ice stripped the propellers from the vessel, forcing the ship to rely on sail alone. Thus handicapped, she penetrated further north than any other sailing craft had gone previously. After making repairs at Spitzbergen, the island is continuing her trip home to Britain next week.

British Polar Party Reaches Spitzbergen After Perilous Trip

Algarsson Ship Once on Fire, Once Aground on Reef, and Once Miraculously Saved From Being Wrecked on Iceberg During Three Months' Voyage—Takes to Sail When Propellers Are Lost

Expedition Locates Fine Base For Airship Flight Next Year

By COMMANDER FRANK WORSLEY and GRETIR ALGARSSON, Leaders of the British Arctic Expedition.

SPITZBERGEN, Oct. 15.—Within the short space of three months, the British Arctic Expedition has gone through a complete gamut of Arctic perils and dangers. Soon after pushing into the pack-ice, we lost our propellers and had to rely thenceforth on our sails. A little later our rudder was smashed and the broken pieces had to be bound together with thousands of windings of wire, at an infinite cost of painful effort. Then our ship caught fire and was only saved after a hard fight. She went aground on an uncharted reef and was kedged off after forty-eight hours of unceasing labor.

Plane Takes Off From Dirigible High in Heavens

PULHAM, England, Oct. 15.—An experiment in releasing an airplane from an airship while in flight was successfully carried out this morning while the dirigible R-33 took to the air with a monoplane suspended from a trapeze beneath the hull. Piloted by Lieut. R. L. Hais, chief test pilot, the monoplane was released at an altitude of 3,000 feet, and made a successful flight.

After cruising about for half an hour, Lieut. Hais attached his plane again to the dirigible. He was once more released and resumed his solo flight, while the dirigible continued her cruise, and later returned to her mooring mast.

Prince Carries Out Memorial Ceremony

Argentine Wreath of Remembrance Cast Upon Sea From Homebound Cruiser

ON BOARD H.M.S. REPULSE, Oct. 15.—Nearing England on his voyage from South America, the Prince of Wales this morning carried out a touching ceremony, casting upon the sea a wreath from the Women's Patriotic League of Argentina, inscribed "in remembrance of the brave and true who died a death of honor and departed in the hope of resurrection and eternal life."

The wreath was preserved in a block of ice. Seamen and marines, with hand, were drawn upon three sides of a square on the quarter deck. At the rail stood the Prince, Rear Admiral Halsey, Capt. Hope and other officers, and the chaplain, who conducted an impressive service.

Weather Forecast Indicates Rain Will Banish Fogs of Past Week

Big Storm, Centred Hundreds of Miles West of Here, May Bring Desired Change—If Not, Hope Lies Towards South, From Which Winds Expected

If the matter of fog versus rain were submitted to a referendum and the electorate thought their ballots could have the slightest influence on the issue, there is hardly any doubt that at the present moment rain would win by a heavy majority.

As it happens, rain is likely to win the day in any event. Fifteen hundred miles out at sea (longitude 150, latitude 55, to be exact), a storm was raging on Wednesday morning. If this, as expected, moved towards the British Columbia coast, and southwards, the fog will vanish, and rain will take its place.

"It may take several days before the storm reaches us. But the barometer has fallen on the coast, pointing to a change, and it is probable that there will be rain which, of course, will do away with the fog," prophesied Mr. Napier, Dominion Meteorological Station at Gonzales Hill, last evening.

Mr. Denison's information last evening about the Pacific storm was twenty-four hours old. Even if this great ocean gale which was reported by radio to be causing some inconvenience to shipping, failed to continue its course toward the Northern Coast of B.C., hope lies toward the south, from which direction there is also a possibility of winds springing. Rain would almost certainly follow in the wake of the disappearing fog.

Interior Warm

Temperatures continue to be high in the interior, and moderate to cool on the coast. Victoria's maximum yesterday was 46, minimum 42; Vancouver minimum 46, maximum 46; Tatonah minimum 42, maximum 46; Prince Rupert at eight o'clock last evening reported a remarkable upward inclination in the temperature. After dropping to 34 the mercury mounted to 54 during the day. This sudden change is taken as an indication of some big influence from the direction of the ocean. At Grand Forks the temperature went up to 75 yesterday, at Spokane to 70, and in Southern Oregon to 75.

The meteorologist's explanation of the present wide-spread coast fog conditions is that it is due to abnormal distribution of atmospheric pressure all over the province, accompanied by general stagnation of the air. The fog has been dense during the past forty-eight hours, all through the Straits of Georgia, Fuca and Puget Sound. While it has been a positive menace to navigation, ashore it has had its serious drawbacks both from the standpoint of business and pleasure. Transportation has been greatly hampered, and such recreations as golfing and motoring have lost all their attractions.

Chinese Troops Seize Railway

Chekian Forces Moving Against Manchurian War Lord—Trains Stopped

SHANGHAI, Oct. 15.—A message from Soochow reports soldiers halted and seized a train bound for Nanjing on which Silas H. Strawn, the American delegate to the Chinese customs service, was proceeding to Yeking. Strawn transferred to another train to return to Shanghai. This train, however, was held up, twenty miles from Shanghai, but got to Soochow. Consular officials are taking exhaustive measures to insure the safety of the passengers.

Shanghai this morning reported the movement of Chekian forces, which are opposed to the Manchurian troops of General Chang Tso-Lin, who have been in control of Shanghai, towards the Shanghai-Nanking Railway between Wushu and Soochow; and the advance of a Manchurian force to oppose them. The seizure of the train on which Strawn was traveling indicates that one of the forces has seized the railway; somewhere between these points.

Ban Put on Nocturnal Motoring; Naughty Students Go to Dances

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Cambridge University students have been forbidden to use motor cars before 12:30 in the day time or after 8 o'clock at night, partly in order that the university lectures may be heard to better advantage with the lessening of the street noises and partly to prevent the students from motoring to Bedford for dances at night. The students are not allowed to dance in Cambridge.

As a result of restrictions of the use of autos by the students, it is difficult to realize that the university term has commenced again. The old town of Cambridge possesses many narrow streets, but there is ample room in them for everybody now.

Premier Held To Be Asking Agrarian Aid

Prophesies Progressives Will Disappear, Says Hon. Mr. Meighen, Yet Backs Their Candidates in 25 Ridings

DAUPHIN, Man., Oct. 15.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, in addressing a meeting here tonight after a day which signalled the opening of an intensive campaign in Manitoba, declared that the Prime Minister, "who says that by 1930, there will be no Progressives left," is calling upon his followers "in twenty Ontario seats and in five seats in Manitoba to support the Progressives."

In doing this, Mr. Meighen charged that Mr. King was "content to ask them to vote for a party which he admits is dying."

The opposition leader appealed to Liberals who might be in the audience.

Police Board Saving Money

Unexpended Balance of Over $6,000 Expected at End of Year's Activities

The Police Commission may end the year with an unexpended balance of $6,302 in the treasury, according to a financial report submitted yesterday by Commissioner Stansfeld.

Commissioner Stansfeld predicted that through the exercise of economy the board would keep expenditures down to an even $100,000 for the year. This figure, he explained, did not include disbursements on interest and sinking fund charges. He had arrived at it, he said, without taking into consideration the city's accounts against adjoining municipalities for services rendered.

"At the present moment," he said, "the expenditures total $16,042, leaving a balance for the year of $30,228. Through the exercise of economy we can expect to have a balance of $3,022 under the estimates at the end of the year. This will at least show ratepayers that we are studying economy and are trying to give the best of service at the lowest cost."

Missing Alaskan Feared Drowned

Search Party Fails to Find Messenger From Wrecked Mission Boat

NOME, Oct. 15.—A searching party sent out to find Ernest Bowman, a member of the crew of the mission ship Ariel, which was wrecked near Teller, north of here, returned to Nome today after a ten-day futile search. Bowman left the Ariel to seek help when it grounded.

The searchers reported they found traces of footprints leading to the edge of Tasiuk Creek. A search of both banks of the stream failed to reveal further marks.

It is believed that Bowman was drowned when attempting to cross the river and that his body was swept out to sea.

Two Prisoners Escape From Manitoba Prison

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—Selecting a time when all the guards were wrapped in slumber, Tony Tili, alias G. Rivard, and Richard Lawrence, serving terms for shopbreaking and theft, respectively, escaped from the prison farm near here during the night.

Big well was the getaway planned that the absence of the pair was not discovered until several hours later.

Threshing Delays Injure Wheat Crop

Alberta Hardest Hit by Continued Bad Weather, Report Says

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—Serious damage to the grade of the western wheat crop because of delay in threshing operations occasioned by continued bad weather is indicated in a special report on threshing conditions published by the Manitoba Free Press today. The report is compiled from answers to queries sent to over 100 points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The province of Alberta has been hardest hit by the bad weather, the report states.

Poison Tests Prove Fatal To Scientist

Prof. Lefroy, Noted Champion of Science Against Insect Pests, Dies of Effects of Experiments

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Prof. Harold Maxwell Lefroy, one of the greatest of European authorities on entomology, died yesterday at St. George's Hospital. He was admitted to the hospital Saturday night after being found unconscious by his wife in the laboratory of the Imperial College of Science and Technology at South Kensington, where he had been experimenting with poison gases.

His death, which was due to gas poisoning, robbed hygiene of one of its foremost champions in the battle of science against insect pests.

His life had been devoted to combating man's insect enemies and his efforts had been rewarded with some remarkable successes, notably in destroying pests which attack cotton, silk, wheat and wool, and also in educating the public against the danger of the housefly.

His services in combating the fly pest during the World War resulted in his recognition. To him Australia owes much for discovering a method for checking the wheat weevil. His attacks on various wood worms, especially the death-watch beetle, and also in educating the public against the danger of the housefly.

May Keep Wembley As Empire Resort

Premier Baldwin Discusses Future of Big Fair With Realization Committee

LONDON, Oct. 15.—It is officially announced that the realization committee which was appointed recently by the executive council of the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley to deal with the question relating to the future of the exhibition and of the exhibition's future, waited on Premier Stanley Baldwin, when a free and frank discussion of the matter was in question was held. The Premier undertook to investigate the points submitted to him, and communicate his reply to the committee as soon as possible.

Sir James Cooper, a member of the committee, in an interview said that during the last three months the expenses of the exhibition undoubtedly had been met. But it was another question whether there had been no deficit, considering the liabilities with which the exhibition started. He said he was unable to answer the question whether the guarantors would be called upon to pay the full amount they had guaranteed.

Sir James Cooper said that if it was impossible to keep Wembley as a permanent Empire institution the members of the committee would discuss the possibility of a national viewpoint. The majority of the guarantors, he said, desired to see Wembley continued as an Empire resort.

Pioneer Dies On Mainland

Mr. E. H. Fletcher Succumbs in Vancouver—Oldest Postal Employee in Canada

Oldest postoffice inspector in Canada, and for many years a resident of Victoria, Edward Hyde Fletcher died at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Fletcher was born in Quebec Province on May 8, 1851. In June, 1921, the fifty-third year of his service with the postoffice, Mr. Fletcher was recognized as the oldest member of the whole Dominion force. He retired in 1922.

Mr. Fletcher's annual tours of inspection included Vancouver Island, the whole British Columbia coast and the Yukon. When he joined the service in 1868 there was no railroad in the province, and all traveling had to be done on horseback, by stage or canoe.

As a pioneer mail man of British Columbia, Mr. Fletcher experienced many thrilling adventures.

He had a host of friends in this city and on the mainland, including many old residents in the vicinity of Barkerville and the northern interior.

Max Englehart Has Narrow Escape
GORHAM, N.H., Oct. 15.—Lost in a raging blizzard on Mount Washington last Sunday and driven to cover in Tuckerman's Ravine where he was penned behind ten-foot snowdrifts without snowshoes, Max Englehart, a former British Columbian, was rescued in an exhausted condition yesterday after he had lived for three days in the freezing cold with no nourishment but drinks of mountain brook water.

The Campaign

It Gets Lost in the Fog—Premier Oliver Does Not Deal With Freight Rates—Without Claws—All Because of the Fog—Hon. Pattullo Will Do His Bit—More Predictions—Which Show Absolutely That It's All a Waste of Time

The campaign was lost in the fog yesterday. Premier Oliver was due to ginger it over in New Westminster, but either he got lost in the fog going over, and did not make his speech, or else he did not get here, and did make it, that got lost in the fog. Nothing was heard of it here. It was too bad, anyway, because it had been announced that the Hon. First Minister would deal with those poor old Freight Rates without gloves, and everybody was curious to know what he would have to say upon a subject about which he has been so consistently uncommunicative.

A little wind, or a little rain, or a little something that will shift the fog, is a consummation of weather developments devoutly to be wished. Because the fog is getting into everything, including the good old Freight Rates; and what with fog in the air, and fog in the speeches, and fog in the minds of the free and untrammelled electorate, the Grand Old Liberal Party is unofficially said to be about to issue a bulletin to the effect that everything is as bad as it possibly can be, and is rapidly getting worse.

Not that Victoria is getting all the fog, either political or meteorological. The fog is very bad up North, it seems. Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith is up there, carrying the fiery cross of Liberalism to the great open spaces, and the salmon canneries, and the lumber camps, and the mines, and anywhere else that a fiery cross can be carried to. Only the trouble is that the fiery cross can't be seen through the fog. However, it is reported that Mrs. Smith managed to get to Prince Rupert, and that she managed to deliver her message, in which she favorably reviewed the record of the Mackenzie King Government. So all's well in the North, and the lights of Liberalism are burning brightly—if only they could be seen through the fog.

Attorney-General Manson is also in the North, carrying the good news to the free and independent electors of Skeena riding. He is making the welkin ring all over the Skeena riding with some red-hot stuff about the Australian Trade Treaty. It seems that this treaty was especially negotiated by the Mackenzie King Government for the benefit of the intelligent and ungrateful citizenry of British Columbia, so that Australian butter and eggs can come in, and British Columbia can go out, and everybody can be happy except the producers of butter and eggs here, and the producers of lumber there. Attorney-General Manson is said to be admirably firm in his intention to keep three issues of political correctness, Stool Pigeons and the Janet Smith case.

Mr. Ivel, who has been left to ginger his campaign so far with only the help of his erstwhile rival for the nomination, Mr. Henry Hall, has enlisted the aid of the big guns. Tonight his meeting at Victoria West High School will be addressed by Hon. Minister of Lands Pattullo. Hon. Minister of Lands Pattullo is not absolutely a citizen of Victoria, but he is generally known as a citizen of Victoria, and his speaking engagements have called for his presence somewhere else. Not that he altogether despairs of the political intelligence of Victoria, as his chief is said to do, but he is too austere and correct in his adherence to the Grand Old Policies of the Grand Old Party not to view with alarm the aid case of a constituency which returns four Conservatives to the Provincial House. However, tonight the Hon. Pattullo will make one last appeal to the better mind of Victoria, and will be heard in a trenchant denunciation of what the G.O.P. said that Mr. Meighen said at Halifax.

The Local Voice of the G.O.P., which is charged with righteous indignation whenever it has reluctantly but firmly to refer to this newspaper's publication of election predictions, and it has to do it nearly every day, much as it hates to do it—should be heard in Vancouver. Over in Vancouver they not only take their campaign with ginger, but they want it with jam on it. The Vancouver Sun is strong on predictions. That well-known journalistic friend, Premier Oliver is publishing absolutely unassailable statistics which show—The Sun says—that the Conservatives haven't the ghost of a chance in the election.

This prediction is based on—yes, the truth has been said at last—the standing of the parties in the last House of Commons. These damaging statistics are ruthlessly dragged into the light of day by The Sun—so it says—"in the interests of establishing stable government in this country for the next five years." And they show—according to The Sun again—"that the Conservatives have no possible chance of gaining a clear majority in the next House against such tremendous odds." Well, well, to think that nobody should have thought of that before! Of course, when it is made clear for you in that way, you can see at once that the Conservatives couldn't have a majority in the next House no matter how the people voted. It seems such a pity that the country should be put all this expense just for nothing at all. It hardly seems worth while to go on with the election.

Little Benitos Now Fill Italian Cradles

ROME, Oct. 15.—The name Benito is fast supplanting that of Caesar, Peter and John in the baptism of the christening of baby babies. Fond parents are bestowing the name on their new arrivals in honor of Benito Mussolini, Italy's Prime Minister. Hardly a day passes without bureau of vital statistics recording the baptism of a new Benito.

Sir John Power, M.P. Will Address Club

Representative in the British House of Commons for Westminster constituency, will be the guest of honor and speaker at a joint luncheon of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and Canadian Club today at 4:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the women's Canadian Club will be privileged to hear the speaker. Sir John is a distinguished economist, who is well versed on world conditions, and it is expected that a large audience of Victorians will listen to his address here.

Political Notes

Nomination yesterday in 27 of the 241 ridings of Canada did not disclose any surprises. They include the scattered seats, some of the largest constituencies in the West, the British Empire, although the largest Federal area represented by one man is located in South Australia. There, as here, special arrangements have to be made by returning officers, so that the ballots may be distributed in time for a uniform polling date.

Brothers in Canadian politics are not common, but in the case of Lucien Ladouceur, nominated yesterday in the Conservative interest for Pontiac, Quebec, another member of the same family is carrying the Conservative standard in the County of Joliette, namely, T. Ladouceur.

In the welter of argument for and against a tariff, the clearest answer to the argument that protection will be a means of enhancing the manufacturers' profits is that of Sir Henry Drayton, former Minister of Finance. Speaking in Montreal, Ontario, he declared: "The evil of exploitation (of the tariff) ought to be met and checked," he says. "This can be done, and it will be done, by the simple, cheap and effective process of taking from the offending manufacturer the profits resulting from tariff exploitation, with resultant unfair prices."

Creditors Hear of James Logging Co. Status at Present

The future of the James Logging Company, now being operated by the Empire Lumber Company at Cowichan Lake, is carefully explained in a letter to the creditors of the logging company, issued yesterday by Mr. G. D. Bouton, managing director of the Empire Lumber Company. He shows a great many liabilities necessary to be discharged, and indicates the methods proposed to conserve to the best interests the assets of the company, which he points out would be seriously depreciated by a forced sale. Mr. Bouton argues that precipitate action would result in the unsecured creditors losing everything, and that a receivership should be avoided. Work will continue in the woods, and the logs already felled will be cut and marketed, the Empire Company being responsible, he declares, for continuing logging operations.

Trustees' Convention Fails to Devise Scheme for Reaching Uniformity of Salaries

The attempt to reach some kind of standard salary schedule for teachers throughout the Province was voted down in every form in which the proposition was presented to the convention of the School Trustees now in session here. The question was reached yesterday morning on a resolution submitted by the Burnaby Board and the proposal for a special committee to draw up a schedule covering teachers' salaries met with defeat. A second move to have a joint committee of the Association of Teachers' Federation and the Government attempt to prepare such a schedule also met with disaster.

The recommendation of last year's executive dealing with the subject and the draft of salaries which it is suggested might form the basis for uniformity of schedules remains with the convention. This draft would provide for salaries of $300 to start with in rural and assisted schools; $300 for third-class cities and third and fourth classes of municipalities; $350 for second-class cities and municipalities; and $1,050 for the first-class cities and municipalities. After eight years the salaries under these four classes would reach respectively $1,374, $1,546, $1,632 and $1,804.

Committee Suggested

When the proposal for a special committee was introduced from the Burnaby Board it was pointed out by the president, Mr. George A. Grant, that there was little hope of satisfactory conclusion during the present convention. He suggested that a committee might be named to consider the matter during the recess.

Trustee Williams said that something might be done to provide for a minimum salary upon which young teachers should start. The matter of grading experience of teachers would have to be left to the Boards to work out.

Attention was called by Trustee Woods to the fact that under the law one School Board was not bound by the actions of the previous one. The chairman said that while this was true, Boards very often adopted the schedule of the Boards' predecessor.

Mr. Charlesworth, of the Teachers' Federation, felt that a joint conference might be held in which the Teachers' Federation would be represented in the hope of reaching a satisfactory conclusion. He had recently returned from England and had obtained a great fund of information on the subject.

Trustee Manning said that the schedule prepared by the executive committee be sent to each Board as an aid in working out a local schedule. He could not see any advantage of naming a committee.

Trustee Blackwood moved to have a committee appointed to work with a committee from the Government and from the Teachers' Federation with a view to aiming at a satisfactory schedule.

Trustee Woods objected to the amendment in as much as the Minister had said the day before, the Government would not interfere in the matter. He did not think the Teachers' Federation should be called in until a schedule was presented. All motions were voted down.

CANADA'S GREAT NEED

The secret of prosperity, and it is a very "palpable secret" for any country, lies in the productive capacity of the people being fully employed. If it is not there is unemployment and people leave the country to seek a livelihood elsewhere. Since the Liberal Government at Ottawa came into power it is estimated, on the basis of United States returns of Canadian immigration to that country, that some 500,000 of our people have gone to the American side, and not only have gone there but have found employment which was denied them in their own country. The policy of the present Government has been to encourage immigration from the United States. It has failed to provide that protection which would prevent our raw resources from being exported to the United States, manufactured there and in some instances, the manufactured products are returned to Canada for sale to our people. Some of these manufactured products have been manufactured by Canadians who have followed our raw products across the frontier.

In one year, the latest for which statistics are available, Canada purchased from the United States anthracite and bituminous coal worth $58,000,000. We purchased iron rolling mill products, machinery and electrical appliances, worth $181,000,000; motor cars and parts valued at $27,000,000; agricultural and vegetable products worth $80,000,000; fresh fruits to the value of $18,000,000; dried fruits worth $5,000,000; lumber, $7,000,000; manufactured wood, $7,000,000; and boots and shoes worth $725,000. These are some few of the commodities we import from the neighboring republic, but they by no means conclude the list. They are all products, however, which could be manufactured in Canada, and had they been manufactured here there would have been no need of any exodus of our citizens. It is inadequate protection which is presenting the handicap to industrial development at home. The Liberal Government has pursued a policy which is wholly wrong when applied to Canada. It has encouraged importations from the United States when its efforts should have been centered on building up industrial development within the Dominion.

It is not during this election campaign that the people are learning of the causes which have militated against their prosperity. They have known them all the time, but too large a section of the people has been hoodwinked by the economic theories expounded, and in part put into practice, by Mr. Mackenzie King. They know now that these theories in practice have failed utterly to implement the country's progress. The result of them has been unemployment, a consequent exodus of our population and growing uneasiness in the public mind. What is wanted is, in the light of experience, to meet and counteract the new tariff barriers that have been erected against the products of this country, by a complete revision of the Canadian Customs Tariff. It is necessary to provide in that tariff every reasonable safeguard which time and experience have shown to be necessary to give profitable employment to Canadian labor at home. The present Government's policy of kow-towing to the needs of the United States, both in the matter of our people and of our resources, should end and Canada hereafter should stand on her own feet and be the architect of her own destiny.

THE PRICE OF BINDERS

In April of last year a reduction was effected in the duty on binders. It was heralded by the Liberal press and by Liberal speakers as a move which would save the farmers of the country many millions of dollars yearly. In 1923 the sales tax on binders was 4 per cent. In January, 1924, the Mackenzie Government increased that sales tax to 6 per cent. The sales tax charged on an International 8-foot binder in January, 1924, and after the increase came into effect was 6 per cent of the factory price, or $14.50. In April, 1924, the Government reduced the duty and abolished the sales tax.

Before the measures of April, 1924, came into effect the Calgary price of the binder (8-foot) was $317 and afterwards $302.50. The difference was $14.50, or the amount of the sales tax previously added by the company and no longer payable by the customer after the tax was abolished. The reduction in price because of a reduced tariff was nil. The same condition applied to all other agricultural implements. Where there was a reduction in price it was because of a reduced sales tax, or because the sales tax was abolished. The tariff reductions have not meant reduction in price; it is the removal of the sales tax which has been instrumental in making for cheaper agricultural implements.

THE PEOPLE'S POWER

The Agents' Purchasing Association has been holding a meeting in Montreal and in an address given by Mr. Walter S. Johnson, he said: "There is nothing wrong with Canada. The fault lies with the people who are privileged to drop their ballot in the boxes." This is tantamount to saying that good government is in the hands of the people. The text is seized upon by The Montreal Gazette as a warning of what the people should do on October 29. It points out that a sectional and shilly-shally tinkering in administration has carried affairs in the country from bad to worse during the past four years but that the opportunity has come for the people to alter the programme and the prospects. This can be done by going to the polls and recording sufficient votes for a change of administration. The Gazette then goes on to say:

A land in peril needs soldiers, not sophists. When the farmer wants a crop, he must get behind the plough. Reading catalogues will not grow wheat. It would not help the Agents' Purchasing Association, for example, did the trading halt at holding a convention rally or did customers stop at admiring its propaganda and address. And so all round, nowhere more so than when the household economy of the nation is in the balance and when the issues at stake are as if we had to choose between April growth and November fog. Public meeting itself will never decide that event. Voices do not make a verdict. Talk about what the next government is going to do is a sort of Mahomet's coffin, suspended 'twixt earth and sky, until persuasion takes the form of an actual ballot. And every blank dash without a name in the voters' list virtually and practically means a vote for the other side. The citizen who really values his privilege and is sincerely desirous of bringing about a new era of prosperity by a change of administration, will not vaporize about a nicely-calculated less or more of the Conservative tally, but will record a number one vote as the best symbol and expression of his interests, convictions and political power.

CAMPAIGN OF PROMISES

Mr. Mackenzie King has made at least one thing clear to the country in the present election campaign. He is determined to enlist the aid of the Progressives and he is willing to promise them anything so that they assist in maintaining the Liberals in power. He has bargained with them over the running of candidates in various seats. He has given a conditional promise that the Hudson Bay Railway will be built; he says there will be Senate reform, conditionally, of course, on the "Provinces' approval"; and he has said that he wants a tariff only for revenue. Such an exhibition of "political huckstering" has had no parallel in Canadian politics, but it is a logical exhibition, after the record of the King Government in office. The Prime Minister wants to retain power at any cost, even at the sacrifice of Liberal principles. That is the meaning of the sectional promises he is making wherever he goes. Considering how confident he claims he is of a Liberal victory it would seem to the uninitiated that many of the promises he is making are unnecessary, and his record in the matter of keeping promises is not one to inspire confidence. He is raising expectations, possibly, in some minds that will not be realized. As Shakespeare wrote:

Off expectation falls, and most oft hits
Where most it promises; and oft it hits
Where hope is coldest, and despair most sits.

The agitation for fixed Easter holidays is not making headway. The Churches, in every probability, will continue to hold the ecclesiastical Easter as of yore and public opinion will hardly tolerate the fixing of any particular date of the year for a holiday which would be described as the Easter holiday. The fixation of a holiday may be a matter for Parliament, but Easter is a church festival with which Parliament should not interfere.

Commenting on the tariff policy of Mr. E. L. Patenaude, the Conservative leader in Quebec, The Montreal Gazette says: "Mr. Patenaude is a protectionist. He believed that charity should begin at home, that products which are consumed in Canada or go into world markets should be made by Canadian workmen in Canadian factories or killed in Canadian fields by Canadian farmers. He opposes a fiscal policy under which raw material is sent out of Canada to be reimported in finished form. He sees no prospect of attracting immigrants and of keeping native sons of the soil except by means of a tariff policy that will give them employment in industries and create a market for their products if they go on the land. He gives no credence to the contention that a protective tariff involves higher cost of living, since the absurdity of the contention is manifest in the United States, with its near-prohibitive duties, and he claims that the price of food is of less consequence than the possession of the means whereby to buy. Looking through the window of a butcher's shop with a penniless pocket will not fill an empty stomach."

First overland mail route between Missouri and Utah began in 1850.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

A Politician of the Old School breezed his way into the office yesterday and said he had just "dropped in" to say that "politics is not what it used to be." In the good old days when leading politicians were known as old politicians over the traces, (We wonder if any of the younger politicians of the present day know what a "trace" is.) A horse which kicked over the traces made things interesting for its driver. A politician who is in the habit of kicking over the traces is not a conventional politician, and because of his unconventional policy he makes things interesting for his hearers, when he speaks.

The Politician of the Old School who "dropped in" upon us unfolded an ancient copy of The Colonist and proved by extracts from its columns that in the early days of this Province the politicians of that day looked upon politics as a serious business. They considered the business so serious that they "made things interesting" for their opponents and for the audiences which gathered to listen to their discussions. Of course there were libel suits in those good and interesting old days—and The Colonist was a party to some of them.

There are no libel suits in these young and degenerate days. Our modern politicians never say anything that is likely to provoke suits for libel. "Why," exclaimed the Politician of the Old School, his blood beginning to boil and his countenance to blaze with internal excitement, "in some of the Provinces of Eastern Canada in the early days of the political history of the country, politicians were occasionally clapped in jail, some politicians were even driven into exile, because they expressed their opinions of their opponents in too vigorous terms."

"You never hear a politician of the present day say something that will cause an audience to rise to its feet and vent its feelings in tumultuous applause. Look at this" (and the Politician of the Old School read an extract from his aged copy of The Colonist). The speech he quoted was frequently interrupted by "uproarious applause" and "loud peals of laughter." "Why," the political speakers of the present day cannot even tell a funny story. That is why an audience begins to disperse before the orators of the evening have become warmed up to their subjects."

"Now old Sir John A. could tell a humorous story in an inimitable way. That was one reason for his tremendous popularity notwithstanding the extremely bitter attacks that were made upon him, attacks that too frequently were of a personal character. Hon. Edward Blake could not tell a story at all. He was what we nowadays call one of the intelligentsia. He made long and dreary speeches. No one ever heard the end of them. That is why Blake was a complete failure as a leader, drifted into the Imperial Parliament, made one of his interminable 'orations,' and forever after held his peace as a politician."

"Dr. Tolmie has some real sense of humor and can tell a good story at an appropriate time in an effective way. To the extent of his capacity as a story-teller the Doctor is popular. If he told more stories he would be even more popular. The so-called speeches of the majority of the politicians are but repetitions of what has been said in other speeches. The people are tired of them and will not listen patiently to them. We all know now that the two parties (the Progressives and the Liberal Party) are merely a wing of the Liberal Party, and the Liberal Party has not grown to the point at which it may be considered a political factor; it is divided upon a fundamental principle. The Conservative Party has adopted the vital principle of Canada and everything in Canada for Canadians. Premier King thinks Canada is doing as well as can be expected, and under his treatment may do better some day. The people do not want to hear anything more upon the matter. They fully understand it, and are merely waiting for an opportunity to vote upon it."

"I know young Mr. W. M. Ivel. He is a very nice gentleman and a very ambitious gentleman, and as a Canadian he has every right to be ambitious. But as an orator you will never see an audience 'hanging upon his words with suspended breath.' He will never lead the Canadian House of Commons captive by the magic of his eloquence. I have never heard Mr. Ivel attempt to tell a story. He may be capable of doing that, but something tells me that if he were to attempt to do it, the effect upon his hearers would be just the reverse of the effect intended."

"But of course one never can tell. There may be some interesting developments in this campaign yet, some developments quite as exciting as the political incidents of the old days. Mr. Ivel may develop a fund of humor or some other talent of a valuable political nature. I wish something would turn up to relieve the tedium of the time that has yet to run its course before the returning officers begin to count the ballots and to announce the results. Of course we all know what will happen to the Government of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, but elections in these days, like the elections of all other days, are still as uncertain as ever."

the horse races to which we are accustomed in this country. I do not think the matter can be better put than that."

Cheerful Poems

By J. CAMPBELL.

A neat pamphlet of poems and sonnets recently issued from The Colonist press. It is read with much pleasure. When one knows personally and favorably an author it is pleasurable to review his productions. The author of this little book is Ashmore H. Bird, a genial and popular officer of the new palatial steamer, Princess Marguerite, that sails in the tourist season the triangle of Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle. Through his official duties he had ample opportunity to study the idiosyncrasy of human nature. His sympathetic characterization of his goose gull as a sparrow from the smith's anvil. His style is simple and his composition may be characterized as an imagination expressed in poetic diction.

The flowers blossom and the grass grows
Are bright for a moment, then fade and die.
While the spirit departs with a uttered sigh."

And the ideals of life grow faint and dim
When we look on the world of strife and sin,
Till our thoughts soar up with reverent love
To the perfect God enthroned above."

While some of the author's expressions are a trifle stiff and the titles of sympathetic tears, we find but few flights of arrow thoughts which halt the reader and constrain him to a re-reading. The cogitation, however, fixed by thought is expressed in language that is refreshing, tender, merry and mellow. The arrangement of the verses differs much from that of some of the poetry we find floating about which depends on the rhyming syllables—

"Which stand like sentinels at the close
To keep the verse from being lost."

This pamphlet shows the author to be a real poet, and his official position gives him a fine opportunity of studying the idiosyncrasies of man. He is not a disciple of Oliver Loane, but in the present all he intends to write.
At a matriculation one of the questions was "What is posthumous poetry?" One of the candidates wrote: "Posthumous poetry is poetry a man writes after he is dead." Mr. Bird's pamphlet was written while the author is yet alive, and the obligation of the verse is the poetical new boots of the C.P.R.

Six Months Hoist

Sir—May I explain to your readers a misunderstanding of the Parks Committee and the Interim Committee. The latter includes unemployment, on Monday night last? My misunderstanding of resignation has now been received by the Mayor.

When the Estimates By-Law was in committee considerable discussion took place concerning the work, and an undertaking was given that $25,000 should be appropriated for contingencies and relief combined. Alas, the estimate, leaving $24,000 only in the treasury for all possible contingencies and measures of relief.
In discussion I urged that as much as possible of civic public work as practicable should be laid over until the winter season approached, when laborers cannot find employment, and thus the city could partially alleviate any distress arising. This was assented to and in accordance with this policy, the parks committee deliberated on the matter of public works of pressing importance until this week, which would have been strongly urged earlier in the year had it not been for the contingent possibility of unemployment.

These three undertakings were as follows: Cleaning and permanent draining of Goodacre Lake at a cost of $1,500. This item had been over and over again debated, promised, and then postponed. In the midst of the most beautiful parks in Canada, with an outlook to the grand Olympia and an illimitable stretch of ocean beauty, there lies a pond filled with the gathering of thirty years of all manner of decayed rubbish and filth, without an outlet to a sewer or any means of cleansing. It is enough to see the water so filthy to discern the absolute necessity of this public improvement.

The next work suggested was the replanting of Belleville Street. It is a nuisance for any taxpayer to confront the beautiful stretch of greenward opposite the Legislative Buildings and the Empress Hotel with the motley mass of rubbish, debris and unsightly shacks that follow in quick succession, westward on Belleville Street, to know why this work was recommended. The estimated cost is $1,200.

Not quite so urgent, yet genuinely necessary, is the renovation of the reverted lands known as "Charles Redfern Park," so called in honor of a former Mayor and worthy citizen of Victoria. The cost of this work is estimated at $1,500.
Alderman Todd moved that the whole of this work should be postponed to the third week in November, which, in common parlance, means "the six months hoist." The election for the new Council commences early in December and any intelligent person knows how extremely sensitive Council candidates are towards finance at such periods, and the result would inevitably be to postpone these works of importance to the limbo of the unknown future. I regretted exceedingly to note that those who followed him were new members of the Council, including the Mayor.

Under the guise of care for the treasury this action was taken, but I turn up the sleeve with the exception of Alderman Clearhue, the reactionary gentleman on this vote did not vigorously protest when $25,000 was voted for publicity, or when it was reduced; nor when $4,000 was voted for advertising purposes for a Seattle auctioneer ($500 of which was an advance for publicity, or when $1,000 was voted for Elk Lake Golf Links promotion. But when public improvements are imperatively needed for Victoria's parks and boulevards, when the shadowy specter of unemployment glances round the corner, lo, and behold, money is scarce.

Mr. Editor, past experience along this line makes me brutally cautious to this species of argument and an unrepentant unbeliever.
The "six months hoist" is the altar upon which I sacrificed by chairmanship of the Parks Committee.

Running before a northerly gale, we passed through the Hinlopen Straits in a driving blizzard, and sailed along the base of the great cliffs of Auk Range, at a distance of only eighty yards from shore. Passing around the south and east ends of Northeast Land, we steamed directly over thirty miles of territory which is marked as land on the maps.
Later we corrected the position of Great Island, surveying the channel between it and Cape Leigh Smith. Our studies in all the current maps, marking played at a steady depth of about 120 fathoms (720 feet), between Spitzbergen and Franz Josef Land.

We made a coastal survey around Victoria Island, corrected its position, making complete soundings across these previously unsurveyed waters.
Meet Old Shackleton Ship
At this point our propeller blades were broken off in the ice, and for the rest of our trip we were compelled to manoeuvre the ship through the ice under the leadership of the old Shackleton polar ship Quest in the pack, and she promised to aid us in repairing our propellers as soon as we arrived at a calm harbor in Franz Josef Land.

But the land, beset by heavy pack-ice, arrived too late at the rendezvous. The Quest had been compelled to proceed, and our repairs could not be made. So we continued under sail-power, proceeding as far north as Cape Murray, where no sailing vessel had ever penetrated.
Here our course northward was blocked by solid polar ice. We returned to Northbrook Island, where we anchored and surveyed an uncharted bay under Cape Barents, hoisting the British flag and naming it Cohen Bay after one of the principal supporters of our expedition.

Bears Replenish Larder
Our food supply running low, we paused at Cohen Bay for a bear hunt. First, an enormous bear which came prowling around our camp was shot. Then we pursued a pack of thirty and killed seven, providing ample food for men and dogs. We made friends with the surviving members of the bear colony, taking many photographs of them on the pack-ice and swimming in the sea, or eating blubber from the ship's rail. In an effort to obtain a live mascot for the ship, we lassoed a sturdy little cub, which escaped by biting through the one-inch ropes.

The pack-ice broke and the cub smashed our grader. We wedged the ship into an ice dock and commenced repairs, weaving wire round and round the shattered rudder, so that it could continue its service yet a little longer, until we could work our way back from Franz Josef Land. At this point the polar fog and mist closed in around us, and a day or two later we had our marvelous escape from disaster on a stranded iceberg as big as a mountain.

Phantom Isle's Existence Proved
In a final attempt to penetrate the polar ice-pack, we proved the existence of the phantom Gillis Island, which was reported 100 years ago at latitude 81.30. The ice north of this point was as solid as a granite pavement and we were forced to retreat without completing our survey of the phantom island, but on three occasions we sighted the land in a refraction of a miraged shadowy shape.

As we turned homeward we had many anxious moments. The season was dangerously advanced and we were seriously hampered by our damaged rudder as we fought to clear the pack-ice closing in around us. We had annoying headwinds all the time.

time. But our homeward journey set another new record in Arctic exploration, for we completely circumnavigated Northeast Land under sail alone, this feat never having been accomplished before in this direction.
New Island Found
A new island, discovered and surveyed south of Cutlers Reef, was named Wandek Island, after a gentleman supporter of our enterprise. We rounded North Cape on September 21, having attained latitude 81.10 on the 9th. On the way to Green Harbor, terrible gales carried away our main gaff. While we were repairing this damage fire broke out in our hold.
Then, soon after we had conquered, the flames our ship struck among some uncharted reefs in the darkness and was worked off two days later.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

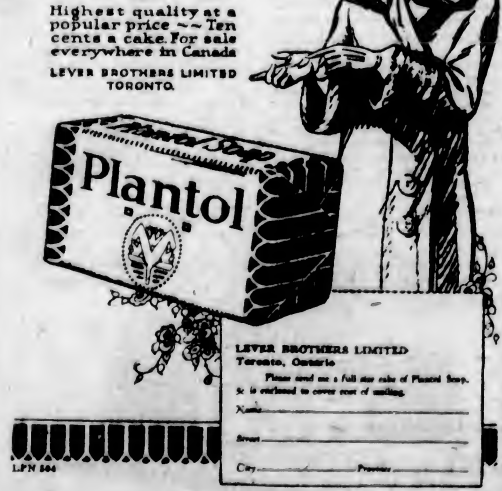

(From The Daily British Colonist of October 14, 1873)

The steamer Maude arrived about 5:30 p.m. yesterday with the following passengers: Mrs. Crookston, Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Parnon, Alex. Dunsmuir and Messrs. Hall, Robertson, Dignan, Stiles, Barry, Charnell, Melrose, J. J. Parnon, Thomas, Lyman, Charles, Collier, J. H. Larkin, Wilson, and four Chinamen.
A Victoria directory and guide has been published at The Colonist Office and is now for sale at the bookstores. This little pamphlet is the work of Mr. Chisholm, an enterprising gentleman who came up from San Francisco for his health, and employed himself while here in compiling the above-mentioned guide. He intends to publish a similar but more elaborate pamphlet in San Francisco, to serve as a guide to other Californians who may wish to follow his example and pay us a visit.
The steamer Interpore left Victoria at 4 a.m. with a few passengers and a small flock of sheep, one of which jumped overboard and swam to land, and was pulled on the wharf much exhausted and looking very sheepish indeed.

Large Sum Needed For P.G.E. Repairs

Engineers Report Nearly Three Million Dollars Required for Replacements

Expenditure of between two and three million dollars will be necessary in order to place the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in first class operating condition, according to reports of Government engineers made public at the Parliament Buildings yesterday. Replacement work would use most of the sum named, several existing bridges being badly in need of rebuilding.

One of the biggest expenditures is needed around Lillooet. Here it is proposed to install a new steel bridge across the Fraser River to replace the present span and to relocate the line altogether. Under this plan the railway would be carried through the old town of Lillooet and across the river north of that point. The scheme, it is believed, would improve the railway greatly and cost would be no more than the replacement of the present bridge, which is in a very difficult place from an engineering standpoint.

The chief point for the Legislature in order to place the condition of the railway apparently will be whether the replacement expenditure should be postponed or started now and carried on over a period of years.

Oak Bay Urges Victoria City To Alter Plan

District Wants City Council to Pay Isolation Hospital Bills Instead of Charging Inhabitants

Rate Decrease Is Sought

Reeve Herbert Anson and Councilor C. F. L. Money were Wednesday night appointed a committee of the Oak Bay Council to interview the Victoria City Council and Dr. A. G. Price, city medical health officer, urging the city to adopt the same system in effect in Saanich and Oak Bay, to pay out of the municipal funds all isolation hospital bills, provided that notification of cases is prompt, and that preventive and remedial measures were adopted without delay.

Dr. W. P. Walker, Oak Bay's medical health officer, in a report on isolation hospital charges to the Oak Bay Council, pointed out that the present agreement between Victoria and Oak Bay regarding the rate per day charge for patients at the isolation hospital was made in 1920, or came into effect that year. As fixed charges, cost of upkeep and supplies were much the same today as then and nursing costs had fallen considerably since pupils nurses have been available, it would appear, continued Dr. Walker, that the rate of $5 per day per patient, which Oak Bay at present paid, could be reduced.

Over a three-year period this would not be shown as nursing arrangements have varied enormously. But since incidence of infectious disease has increased during the past two years, and the cost per case should be lower with more patients handled, it would appear that the reason why the city can offer no better terms, is that it has not been followed for sufficient time to enable data to be obtained.

"There is no doubt in my mind that if the city could be induced to forego the collection of isolation hospital bills from its own inhabitants on conditions similar to those adopted in Oak Bay, and in addition the case incidence would decrease over the whole area served by the isolation hospital and the total expense would be lessened. And if in addition the total cost of the isolation hospital were shared on a patient day basis between the city and surrounding municipalities, the city would gain. At present it would seem as if Oak Bay and Saanich were helping to pay the city's uncollectable debts, and city policy were fostering an increased case incidence over the entire area," concluded Dr. Walker.

Mr. W. M. Ivel Speaks To Mill Employees

Continuing his speeches to employees at the principal industrial plants, Mr. W. M. Ivel, Liberal candidate for Victoria, spoke at the Moore-Whitlingham mill yesterday at the noon hour.

Mr. Ivel referred to the new lumber markets opened up by the Canadian-Australian Treaty, and indicated that the Mackenzie King Government thus had opened new markets to British Columbia lumber. Mr. Ivel also pointed out that the development of the grain movement would result in demand for freight for cars homebound, and a large domestic market would be opened up for the exportation of freight rates west-bound.

Great Plant Will Shortly Be in Commercial Operation, Following Machinery Test

Information was received in the city yesterday that some parts of the machinery of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company's plant at Chemainus are now being tested out, and that the results have been satisfactory. It is understood that the plant will be operating shortly, and that an eight-hour shift will be operated at the commencement.

The splendid supplies in the October issue of The British Columbia Lumberman, descriptive of the mill, has aroused a great deal of attention, and has claimed notice in the circles which were not aware of the tremendous investments which have been made at Chemainus recently.

Written Tests Under Review

Convention Fails to Recommend Examinations for Entrance Be Made Obligatory

The merits of written examinations for entrance to high schools as compared with the passing of pupils on the recommendation of the teacher formed the basis of a discussion at the meeting of the Provincial Trustees yesterday morning. The matter was introduced by a resolution submitted by the North Vancouver board, which recommended that in future the written examinations be followed for all pupils. The decision was against endorsing the resolution submitted and the question thus remains an open one.

Chairman Grant explained that the year before the convention had decided that either there should be no written examinations or no recommendations. It should be one practice or the other, he said.

The discussion brought out the objection that since teachers in order to make a good showing passed the weak pupils, and sent the well-qualified ones up to write.

The abolishing of examinations, it was stated, had been originally asked for by the association. In view of this fact several delegates expressed the opinion that it was unwise to pass the resolution now submitted. Duncan, reported that they had made examinations compulsory, as was now possible.

Teachers' Viewpoint

Mr. Harry Charlesworth, of the Teachers' Federation, referred to the move made by the teachers in dispensing with examinations in the intermediate and high school years, and also a saving in expense due to the passing of pupils who were sure to succeed. A grievous harm was done in keeping pupils out of the high school who should enter, he said.

Miss Jamieson, fraternal delegate from the Teachers' Federation, instanced the cases of compulsory examinations resulting in forcing pupils towards the end of the school term. It was unfortunate, she said, that teachers should be graded according to the pupils passed at examinations. She favored the present system until some better one was found as suggested by the commission.

The resolution was defeated.

Wish to Avoid Hot Months

Trustee Cameron, of Kamloops, introduced a resolution to cut out examinations at the season of the year when in certain parts of the country the weather conditions made these examinations detrimental to the health of the pupils.

It was suggested that the matter should be left to the inspector with power to change the date.

Mr. Cameron said it was felt that the executive should take the matter up with the department. This was as far as it could be carried this year, he felt.

The resolution was lost.

A resolution deprecating the practice of taking teachers away from their regular duties in order to supervise entrance and high school examinations was introduced. North Vancouver and Burnaby boards both submitted resolutions on this point, the recommendations meeting with approval of the convention delegates.

Despard Twigg, third member for Victoria in the British Columbia Legislature, will be the speakers.

Mr. Ladner, who is a candidate in South Vancouver, is a forceful and brilliant speaker and a close student of affairs, not only in British Columbia but in all parts of Canada.

An orchestra has been retained for the meeting and popular selections will be rendered before the meeting is called to order and between speeches. Mr. H. Savage, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, will be chairman.

School Trustees Entertained by Local Rotarians

President George Grant and Trustee A. G. Perry Discuss Educational Questions at Luncheon

Hospitality Is Appreciated

Delegates to the convention of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association, in session in Victoria, were guests yesterday at the weekly luncheon gathering of the local Rotary Club, held at noon in the Empress Hotel ballroom. President H. W. Mayhew presided over the meeting, and extended a cordial greeting to the visiting trustees.

Rotarian Mayhew declared that there was not a body of men and women engaged in more important work than members of the various civic and municipal school boards. He referred to the difficulties in adjusting the ideas of men who pay taxes and those who have children to educate, and mentioned the enormity of the problem of educating children at low cost.

Mr. George A. Grant, of Burnaby, expressed appreciation of the school trustees for the Rotarians' generous hospitality. He regretted he was not a Rotarian and said that had his classification in the Mainland club not already been filled, he would have joined that organization.

Enters Unselfish Work

"Six years ago I looked around and considered what I could do to render the same spirit of unselfish public service as the Rotarians do. I decided to run for the School Board and since the time I first entered the lists, I have been keenly interested in the work. The Rotarians and school trustees are alike in that they both give unpaid service for the advancement of their communities," President Grant asserted.

The speaker said that school trustees were trying to make some progress in education. "We are frequently accused of trying to create educational unrest. Thank goodness we are, or otherwise education would be a stagnant pool. We are going further than they were when we were boys and girls," Mr. Grant exclaimed, amid applause.

Trustee A. G. Perry, who has been a member of the Vancouver School Board for fourteen years, gave a most interesting speech on the duties and qualifications of a school trustee. Members of school boards did not receive any remuneration for their services, but were rewarded for their labors in satisfaction of work for the welfare of the greatest assets of the community, well done.

Must Provide Accommodation

The regulations provided that School Boards shall provide adequate accommodation of children attending schools, said Mr. Perry, adding that he hoped Rotary Clubs would give full support to trustees' programmes calling for absolutely necessary enlarged accommodation.

"It is certainly no use for people to talk in empty platitudes and high-sounding language as to the danger to the child in the school, unless these same people, when the time comes to provide for the children, will provide the necessary money, instead of 'slipping because of a dollar,'" Mr. Perry declared.

Rotarian Bob Webb led the gathering in the singing of several rousing choruses. The Rotary orchestra of ten pieces again charmed with a number of delightful selections.

Printing and gunpowder were invented in China, and the first newspaper in the world was printed in Peking.

Move Made to Cut Holidays

School Trustees Would Shorten Summer Vacation—Discuss Teachers' Contracts

The school trustees of the Province are in favor of the shortening of the holidays to some extent. The initiative in the matter was taken by the Burnaby board at the convention now meeting, which submitted the resolution acted upon and which called for the reducing of the summer holidays to two clear months, namely from July 1 to August 31 inclusive.

In support of the resolution it was pointed out that at the present time there were about ninety days lost to school work when all the holidays were taken into account.

Trustee Harward believed that the best thing for pupils was to give them plenty of work. They should be well looked after, receiving nourishment and exercise to keep them physically in shape and then worked hard. He objected to the making of all kinds of excuses for closing the schools during the year.

The resolution carried.

Automatic Discharge

The Techland board, through Trustee Taylor, submitted a resolution to the effect that contracts between school boards and teachers should automatically cease at the end of the school year without notice on either side.

The resolution was attacked vigorously by many who said it would upset the whole system, and the proposal was voted down.

A resolution from the Mission board favored the same notice being required in the case of a teacher resigning as is now required of a board dispensing with a teacher's services. The resolution carried.

Mr. Hamilton Lane New Head of B.C. School Trustees' Association

Succeeds Mr. George A. Grant, Burnaby, Who in Turn Succeeds Mr. J. E. Wilton as Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Wilton Created Life Member

Mr. Hamilton Lane, of Vernon, succeeded Mr. George A. Grant as president of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association. Election of officers took place at the closing session of the twenty-second annual convention yesterday afternoon. Mr. Lane not only secured the principal active office of the organization, but was also successful in getting the convention for the next year. His invitation, delivered in the name of the Vernon Mayor and citizens and trustees, was accepted with demonstration which proved the great popularity of the Okanagan town with the 100 delegates present.

The elections resulted as follows: Hon. president, Hon. J. MacLean, Minister of Education; president, Mr. Hamilton Lane, Vernon; first vice-president, Mr. A. L. McWilliams, Vancouver; second vice-president, Mr. H. O. Litchfield, Victoria; secretary-treasurer, Mr. George A. Grant, Burnaby; and executive: Mr. A. G. Perry, North Vancouver; Mr. H. Manning, Revelstoke; Mr. J. T. Hepburn, Nanaimo, and Mrs. Walker, Vancouver.

The retiring secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. E. Wilton, of Point Grey, was the subject of several glowing tributes on leaving office.

Owing to ill health, Mr. Wilton some time ago decided not to run for election as trustee in his district, as he would be unable to carry on the double duties of trustee and secretary-treasurer of the Association. In order to show its appreciation of his splendid work in the latter office, and at the same time retain his active interest in the organization, the Association yesterday, on motion of one of the lay delegates, created Mr. Wilton an honorary life member of the Association. Furthermore, Mr. Grant, who is succeeding him in office, moved that the Association should put on its books a record of its appreciation of the magnificent services which Mr. Wilton had given during his seven years in office, at the same time expressing its regret that ill health had forced him to retire from candidacy as a trustee.

In his response to the many cordial expressions of appreciation, Mr. Wilton assured the meeting that his seven years' tenure of office had given him very great pleasure. When he entered the position he had set upon building the membership of the Association to 100 members, and if he had not actually achieved this, he had the satisfaction of seeing a close approximation in the present ninety-five members.

Messrs. Booth, Hepburn and Chapman were appointed scrutineers for the election, but all officers went in by acclamation.

Revising Comtee
The major part of the afternoon was taken up with the discussion of resolutions remaining on the agenda. One of these, submitted by Mr. Manning, aimed at the opening of the "blind alley" which at present blocks high school students taking technical and home economic courses from recognition by the university.

Recognition No. 48, submitted by following which there will be an informal dance. Members and their friends are invited. The president, Dean C. S. Quinton, will preside.

Neck Missing Man—The Victoria police are searching for traces of "Foxy" (probably Ferdinand) Cronbach at the instance of English authorities. Cronbach, through the death of his father, has been left a considerable fortune. After leaving England some years ago, Cronbach went to Tacoma, Washington. Subsequently he came to this city, but his whereabouts now are unknown.

Holding Harvest Festival—St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, began the celebration of its Harvest Festival last evening, at 7:45 o'clock, when the special preacher was the Rev. A. E. Nunna, rector of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. The festival services will be continued on Sunday, St. Luke's Day, with the following: 8 a.m., Celebration of the Holy Communion; 11 a.m., Evensong, H. T. Archibald, special preacher; 3 p.m., Children's Flower Service; 7 p.m., Evensong.

Seventy-Four Convictions—There were seventy-four convictions in the police court last month. Thirty-five persons were charged with various kinds of offences, and three were adjudged to be of unsound mind, and fourteen were committed for safe-keeping. The patrol wagon made 138 calls. Sixteen accidents of various kinds were reported to the police during the month. Fines collected in the police court amounted to $1,331. To this total, $975 was contributed by prisoners charged with infractions of the Liquor Control Act.

Royal Oak Scouts—The Royal Oak Troop and Pack committee met, by the kindness of Mrs. Campbell, at her house on the Wilkinson Road, at 7:30 p.m., on October 13, all the members of the committee, with the exception of Mr. Fair, being present. A good deal of business was got through, and reports show both Scouts and Cubs in good form for their Fall programme. The committee wishes to take this opportunity of tendering its most hearty thanks to Mrs. Stone, who so kindly undertook the duties of secretary-treasurer during the last three months.

Army and Navy Veterans—Reports of the delegates to the recent Dominion convention of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, in Regina, Sask., were received by members of the Victoria unit at last night's meeting of the organization in the club quarters, Port Street. The reports were accepted, and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the delegates. Comrades, Joshua Hinchcliffe, M.P.P., and George Graham and C. E. L. May, of the Victoria unit, were present. A smoking concert will be held in the rotunda of the club premises on Wednesday next, October 21, to commemorate Trafalgar Day.

Nominations Filed In Remote Ridings

Seventy-Three Candidates Nominated Yesterday in Twenty-Seven Constituencies

Candidates have been officially nominated in twenty-seven Canadian constituencies. As provided in the Dominion Elections Act, nominations were received between 12 and 2 o'clock for those constituencies which would otherwise be seriously handicapped in their preparations for polling. Because of their broad expanse, sparse and scattered population and in some cases slow means of communication, they have been allowed two weeks instead of one between nomination and polling day.

Today's nominations were, generally speaking, merely confirmatory in their character. There were seventy-three candidates nominated for twenty-seven seats. Of these twenty-eight were Conservatives, twenty-three Liberals and thirteen Progressives. Three Independent-Labors, one Independent-Conservative and one straight Labor and two Farmer-Labor candidates.

By provinces nominations were as follows:

Quebec: Liberals, 3; Conservatives, 5; Independent Liberals, 1; Independent, 1. Total of 10 candidates for 3 seats.

Saskatchewan: Liberals, 4; Conservatives, 4; Progressives, 4. Total of 12 candidates for 4 seats.

Yukon: Liberal, 1; Conservative, 1. Total of 2 candidates for 1 seat.

WHO IS YOUR SKINNY FRIEND, ETHEL?

Tell him to take McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets for a couple of months and get enough good healthy flesh on his bones to look like a real man.

Tell him it's the only way to take those grave-like hollows from his cheeks and neck.

Tell him that thousands of thin, puny, peaked, scrawny men all over America have improved their physical health and appearance and bless the day they first heard of these wonderful super-coated tablets—full of weight-producing vitamins.

Ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets. Vancouver Drug Co., MacFarlane Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., and every druggist sells them—60 tablets—60 cents. Any thin man or woman can put on five pounds of healthy flesh in 30 days or your druggist is authorized to refund the purchase price.

One woman put on 15 pounds in six weeks. Children grow robust and strong—feeble old people feel younger in a few weeks. (Adv.)

Witch and All Her Satellites to Appear At Press Club Ball

It has been learned by the decoration committee of the Victoria Press Club that All Hallow's Eve was formerly celebrated by the visiting of cemeteries and communing with the spirits and offering floral tributes.

The events committee, on the other hand, contend that the old rites of visiting cemeteries has passed into history.

After a long controversy between the committees it was decided to combine the two customs, and as a result the time-honored broom stick, straddled by the equally notorious witch, will be in attendance with all her company of ghosts, black cats, goblins, skeletons and the like, which is supposed to cast a spell over all who inhale the fumes.

Undoubtedly, therefore, the Victoria Press Club dance on October 30 will vie with the waistcoat of ghost yarn. Tickets are on sale at the business offices of The Times and The Colonist, while members of the Victoria Press Club have also a limited supply on hand. Hunt's orchestra has been secured for the occasion and a wonderful evening is assured.

Mr. John Bassett Is Expected to Arrive From Australia Today

Mr. John Bassett, vice-president of The Montreal Gazette, is expected here today on board the liner Niagara.

Mr. Bassett is one of the representatives of the Canadian daily newspapers who was elected to represent the Dominion at the third Empire Press Union Conference in Melbourne, but had scarcely reached Australia when the news of the dissolution of Parliament was called to that country and he hurried home, leaving by the first available steamer with Mrs. Bassett.

Another member of the party, Mr. Graham O'Leary, of the Press Gallery at Ottawa, has already returned by another route, being a candidate in the Conservative interest against Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Speaker of the House of Commons, in Gaspe, Quebec.

Mr. Bassett had an opportunity to participate in the welcome to the delegates in New Zealand and New South Wales before he left for home. The British and Canadian delegates left here on the motorship Annapolis July 29 for the Antipodes.

Fashions and Foibles

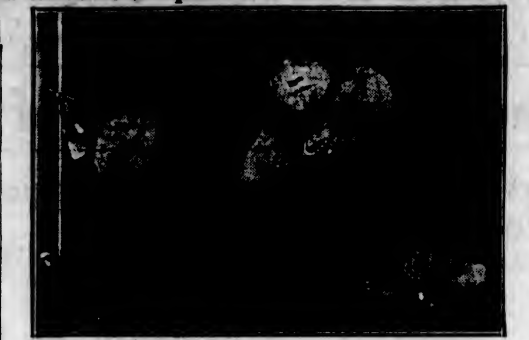

By Shirley Shaw

Occasionally, to be fascinating, one finds it satisfactory to be frilly and feminine. In softer moments, the boyish young lady turns to ruffles.

The young lady in the flowerlike dress frock is mad. A third partner has asked her to sit it out on the stairs and presently he also will whisper that she looks "mighty like a rose." Symptoms of conquest. Must it always be her lot to leave a trail of broken hearts behind? Had the dress not been so pink georgina, the exotic flowers of deepest coral, or the frills petal-curved, these men might have been saved. No doubt, however, ivory taffeta and silver would have been equally devastating, or chiffon in powder blue, or crepe de Chine in orchid.

Famous Soprano Leaves Montreal

THIS is Miss Rosa Ponselle, famous soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, New York, photographed at Windsor Station, just before she left Montreal by Canadian Pacific train, after giving her first Canadian concert in His Majesty's Theatre, Montreal. Miss Ponselle is perhaps the greatest dramatic soprano now on the stage, although she is yet well under thirty years of age. Her sister, Carmela Ponselle, is also a star in the New York Metropolitan House.

Police Want Registers in Lodge Houses

Commissioners to Ask City to Seek Legislation Compelling Guests to Sign Registers
The Police Commission decided yesterday to seek legislation making it compulsory for lodging-house keepers to register guests.
This decision was reached at the suggestion of Chief Fry and Deputy Chief O'Leary, both of whom submitted written requests to the board.
In his letter to the commissioners, Deputy Chief O'Leary said that his plainclothes men had experienced difficulty in dealing with disorderly houses because of the lack of legislation necessitating lodging houses to maintain registers and to produce the names of guests written thereon.

Chief Fry had much the same thing to say in his communication to the board.
Deputy Chief O'Leary suggested that the board ask the City Council to seek amendments to the Municipal Act empowering the city to enact a by-law requiring the keepers of lodging houses to keep registers.
The board decided to adopt this course.
Then it occurred to Mayor Pendray to wonder why Deputy Chief O'Leary had addressed his letter directly to the board instead of submitting it through the Chief of Police. This point of procedure exercised the minds of the commissioners and the Chief of Police for some little time.
Chief Fry said that he knew Deputy Chief O'Leary had written the letter, but he did not explain how it came to pass that the latter had sent the letter to the board direct.

Hallowe'en Is Almost Here, Bringing With It the Press Club Ball—A Cheerful Drink of Ovaltine—The Concert Season Opens—Radio as Popular as Ever, Only More So—Stencilling Is Fashion's Latest Fad—Whitney's Receive Clocks From France

Yesterday I had a slight shock. While passing Litchfield's, on Government Street, I looked into the window and was amazed to see that it was flaming with Hallowe'en orange, superimposed with black cats and witches and all the proper accessories. I had quite forgotten how speedily the year rolls round, for really, it seems only last month that I was bobbing for apples!

Mrs. Adams Escapes Operation

The following statement contained in a letter from Mrs. A. A. Adams, of Provost, Alberta, should bring hope to other women who are in the same condition she was. She says, "I was in a very bad condition, and my doctor said I could not have children without an operation. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken three bottles, and now have a bonny baby girl. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends who have female troubles." (Adv.)

And that reminds me of that all-important matter, the Press Club ball, which is arranged to take place at the Empress Hotel Friday, October 30. It is going to be fun! All sorts of Hallowe'en thrills and excitement—as gay as the Valentine ball, only more so, if possible. At least, so I have heard. Tickets may be bought at the business offices of either The Times or The Colonist, as well as at the Empress Hotel, and from all Press Club members. A few have been entrusted to my care, so if you want them, to and behold—you have a number of places and persons to choose from.

Wandering about in the fog, I felt so disconsolate that I knew not what to do, and so I went into the Vancouver Drug Store, because it looked cheerful. There I found a nurse, all in crisp white, standing behind a counter full of tiny cups and saucers and tins and tins of Ovaltine. "Will you have a cup of Ovaltine?" said the nurse, for which I would like to nominate her for the Hall of Fame, for the fog had crept into every corner of me, and I felt cold and miserable. The Ovaltine was delicious, and, as the poet says, "touched the right spot," besides which, it opened the way to confidence. The nurse told me that she has been demonstrating all this week, and will continue to do so in different shops for another four weeks. Ovaltine is a wonderful food-drink, made in England. It was once also a household word in Canada, but was withdrawn during the war because it was found to be so beneficial that great quantities of it were used in the war hospitals. Now it is creeping back again to Canada. The campaign is being directed on a large scale from the head office at Toronto, which has appointed all trained nurses instead of saleswomen to demonstrate Ovaltine throughout Canada.

With the concert season opening we have a chain of wonderful treats in view. Tickets for the recital of Eva Balz, to be given at the Empress Hotel Thursday, October 22, are sold by Fletcher Bros. Next month Efrem Zimballat, the great violinist, is coming. In December we shall hear Anna Case, soprano, and later Germaine Schuster will return to recapture her admirers in Victoria. Tickets for these three concerts are now on sale at all the music shops in town.

Now I am about to drop from the sublime to the ridiculous. For while music hath charms, it hath also two domains—esthetic and jazz. And while the esthetic is that which elevates the world, the jazz is that which enervates it!

I went to Kent's music shop, on Yates Street, to find out the names of the best new songs, or at least some of them; and these are they: "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby," "Ya Ya Alma" and "Ida, I Do." Nick Lucas is the latest record-maker in the world of phonography. His voice is a peculiar voice, deep and soft and lay with an undercurrent of merriment. I like it better than any voice I have heard singing popular songs for the phonograph. He plays his own accompaniment in a sort of happy-go-lucky way that makes you want to see what he looks like while he's doing it. I listened to his records of "Isn't She the Sweetest Thing?" and "I'm Tired of Everything But You."

Kent's carry gramophones and pianos, and they are at present particularly in radio. I have been under the impression that radio, as an amateur pursuit, was about to die a natural death, or at least to lapse into senility. But they declare that the craze still has the world in its grip, only the grip is possibly even tighter than ever. So I was wrong, for the millionth time.

Embroidery in all its forms has been so much employed that Dame Fashion seems to be a-weary of it, and to relieve herself of the strain has established a new mode. It is much quicker than the old manner, too, and has as great a degree of effectiveness with an added oddity. To be brief, it is stencilling. Everybody's doing it, because it is so easy and so delightful to do.

It is used for the embellishing of painted furniture and of filmy dresses, of satin cushions and of cardboard boxes. Scarves, hats and shoes are brightened with it. It is the keynote of the modern decorative scheme. And all it means is a stencil pattern, brushes, a few tubes of different colored paints, an artistic sense and a few spare moments. The patterns, brushes and tubes are all available at the "Bacon" Paint Supply Shop on Yates Street. The patterns are arranged in attractive books called "Dean's Stencil Books."

Tortoiseshell fittings for Milady's dressing table are to be more popular than ever this season, they told me at Whitney's Jewelry Shop on Yates Street. It is so beautiful and more practical for general use than silver, which needs such diligence and care. A large shipment of beautiful clocks of all types and sizes has just arrived from France. An attractive and useful little article for the business desk is a clock and paper rack combined.

I saw an exquisite vase of glazed pottery, signed by the artist, who is celebrated for the beautiful work he does. Walter Blatter, it was inscribed in luminous colors like the inside of mussel shells, and had green and golden carp curled about it. Very new was a beautiful ring I saw, with a large square cut diamond between two square sapphires, set in platinum and white gold.

Inexpensive and effective is the Japanese Art Pottery at Gordon's. They are having their Fall opening sale just now, and bargains are rampant.

I am developing the instincts of an old maid, or perhaps it is nothing more alarming than a Hallowe'en feeling, for I covet a black cat such as those that I saw at Gordon's, amongst a whole crowd of "Jungle Toys" sitting on a counter near the door. These included the most adorable woolly dogs and rabbits, though I saw one ferocious enough to merit the qualification of "Jungle."

Gordon's have a huge sale of silk stockings, and the "Kumysilk" Rayon Hosiery is adorable.

The question of shoes is an important one at present, and is easily answered at Maynard's on Yates Street, where they have some very smart oxfords, including those which are stitched in contrasting colors. Buckles are appearing in charming versions. I do love buckles, and I am ready to dance for joy at the thought that the French last is to come marching back in triumph, for I am happy and comfy in nothing else, and the vogue showed decided tendencies towards adopting the slim and tortuously pointed toe.

Charming Wedding At Christ Church

Miss Pauline Eckel Becomes Bride of Mr. John Langton—Honeymoon in East

One of the charming weddings of the Fall was celebrated last evening when Miss Pauline Eckel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Eckel, of Brooklyn, New York, was united in marriage to Mr. John Langton, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Langton, of Vancouver, at Christ Church Cathedral. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. T. Archibald at 8 o'clock in the presence of relations and friends.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. William Everett, was lovely in a New York model of white charmuse heavily beaded with silver burlie beads. The soft tulle veil caught with orange blossoms fell from a coronet of rose point lace (an heirloom in the bride's family) over silver tissue studded with pearls and brilliants. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, swanhonia and maiden-hair fern.

Attendants: Miss Juliet Eckel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, in a becoming frock of pale pink georgette, with hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of Enchantress carnations. Miss Hilda Langton, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid in pale blue georgette and hat to match. She carried blue delphiniums. The groomsmen were Mr. Henry H. Goodrick, of Vancouver, and the ushers, Mr. Harry J. Bird and Mr. Philip S. Langton, both of Vancouver.

The bridal party was preceded to the altar by the choir, singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." Mr. Davis presided at the organ.

Reception: At the reception, held in the private dining-room at the Empress Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Langton were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Guy Langton, wearing a cream gown trimmed with lace and hat en suite, and Mrs. Pauline Remmiller, aunt of the bride, in a handsome gown of French blue, with ermine scarf and large black hat.

In place of the conventional wedding cake, the refreshment table was centered by numerous dainty boxes bearing the initials of the bridal couple and containing wedding cake. Pink tulle and bridal roses completed a charming and unusual table decoration. Every guest received one of these pretty boxes.

For traveling Mrs. Langton wore a tailored gown of blue Polart tulle, a natural mustrat fur coat, with cloche hat of grey velvet.

The honeymoon will be spent in New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Langton will winter in Florida, returning in all probability to the West next Spring.

Golf Champion Is Guest of Honor at Club Luncheon

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—Miss Ada Mackenzie, who is conceded by her golf associates as probably the leading lady golfer in Canada, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the members of the Ladies' Golf and Tennis Club. Mrs. Cockshutt, wearing her Canadian-made purple and grey woolen costume with purple hat adorned with grey cocoon feathers, gave an address, complimenting Miss Mackenzie on her golf victories and the club members on their new clubhouse and links.

The address given by Miss Mackenzie, who won the Duchess of Cornwall's Challenge Cup this year, was full of fine enthusiasm and encouragement for the new players of the club to go on and win the challenge cup for the Ladies' Golf and Tennis Club another year. "This will be very difficult, as our standing is not as high as the American or English, and the golf season is shorter," she warned.

An interesting feature is that the women's senior golfers of Canada have accepted an invitation to play their championships on this new course next year, and hope the following year to hold the Canadian open championships on it. Miss Mackenzie said they had achieved all their objectives so far, and had completed all the constructions of the course excepting one green, and that would be finished before the season ended.

Prince's Thoughtful Act

LONDON, Oct. 15.—At the instance of the Prince of Wales, who aboard H.M.S. Repulse, is now within less than a day's steaming from English shores, the admiralty has arranged that the Repulse's radio operator, Bramley, shall be taken off the cruiser at Spithead and transferred to a fast steamer for Portsmouth to enable him to reach London in time to attend the funeral of his father, Fred Bramley, Labor leader and former member of Parliament, who died October 5.

The first bananas shipped to London could not be sold at any price, and were left to rot because nobody would eat them.

The Black Flag Flies At Pittsburgh, Token Of Piratical Victory

Walter Johnson Is Badly Hammered in Last Brush With Enemy on Rain-Soaked Battlefield—Score Is Nine to Seven in Final Game of World's Series—Cuyler Makes the Deciding Hit

Aldridge Is Wild and Erratic In Final Duel on the Mound

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—The black emblem of the Pirates flies aloft to-night, while a swashbuckling crew rules the baseball world for the first time in sixteen years.

Through the haze of a rain soaked, furiously dramatic struggle on Forbes Field this afternoon these ruthless buccaners, Pittsburgh Pirates, National League titleholders, beat down the resistance of their greatest foe, Walter Johnson, and riddled the Washington craft with defeat, 9 to 7, in the seventh and deciding game of the world's series. Forty-two thousand frenzied fans, fired to a high pitch of enthusiasm, watched the hand-to-hand fighting under adverse conditions. They looked on, then broke loose afterwards in a wild demonstration of joy, breaking through the wire screens to swarm the field where the Pirate attack, dominant and flashing, had broken through all barriers to drive the Senators from the baseball heights and complete the greatest comeback any series has ever known.

The Deciding Blow

In the final run over the Washington ramparts, Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler, a dark, broad, dashing young free-bowler, struck the blow that decided the battle—a two-base thrust down the right field foul line in the eighth inning with the bases full, two out and the score deadlocked, bringing over Carson Bigbee and Eddie Moore with the deciding runs and frustrating the greatest goal of the old master, Johnson.

Cuyler's drive, that at first seemed labelled "home run" and then was held to two bases under ground rules because the ball buried itself in a pile of tarpaulin in deep right field—came at the crucial moment when the Pirates were on a nine-game basis and Boston could have lost one more while still winning out.

Here, however, the Pirates won the last three games with the knowledge that defeat in any one of them would mean elimination. While no more spectacular elements are considered, it was an even greater comeback than Washington staged a year ago in taking the last two games from the Giants.

Today's battle was expected to be a duel between the two mounds-men who had each won two games in the series with Johnson and Aldridge seeking the victory that would give either imperishable fame and glory, but instead turned out to be a free slugging drama.

Aldridge, wild and erratic, passed out of the picture in the first inning after issuing three passes and making two wild pitches, while Johnson was battered for fifteen hits and nearly always in trouble. The "big train" had held the slugging Buccaneers to one run and eleven hits in his first two games, but had nothing with which to check his opponents today. His greatest speed held no terrors for the Pirates and his curves had no baffling stuff on them.

First Inning

Sensors—Rice up. Aldridge went out to the box when Rice walked to the plate. Rice shot a liner over left but it was foul. Rice got a single that bounded over the middle bag. Stan Harris fled out to Barnhart, hitting the first pitch. The Goosin up. Rice went to second on a wild pitch. Goosin walked, the fourth ball being low. Joe Harris up. On another wild pitch Rice went to third. Goosin to second. The Pirate infield gathered Aldridge. Joe Harris walked and the bases were filled. Judge up.

Second Inning

Sensors—Stan Harris up. Cuyler took Stan Harris' fly as it was about to go into the stands. Goosin up. Cuyler hit a single for one. Joe Harris short fly to centre. Joe Harris up. Wright took Joe Harris' hopper and got him at first. Morrison worked through the inning. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning

Sensors—Judge shot a single into right centre. Bluege fouled the ball trying to sacrifice. Bluege sent up a high fly to Moore. Peck up. Cuyler made a sensational catch of Peck's fly and threw a wild pitch. Judge went to first. Judge went to second. Ruel up. Carey raced back and took Ruel's long smash. No runs, one hit, one error.

Fourth Inning

Sensors—It was sprinkling a little and very dark and hard to follow the course of the ball on the field. Morrison's curve seemed to mystify Johnson. Carey took Johnson's fly in left centre. Rice up. The crowd was going after Rice again. Rice singled past McInnis. Stan Harris struck out, taking a third called strike. He went back to the bench, kicking. Goosin up. Morrison threw nothing but drop curves to the Goosin. Goosin singled into left and Rice raced to third. On the throw to third the Goosin went to second. Joe Harris up. Rice and Goosin scored on Joe Harris' two-base drive to right. Judge fled out to Cuyler. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning

Sensors—Kremer went into the box for the Pirates. Bluege up. Kremer took a brief warm-up. Traynor robbed Bluege of a hit by leaping high in the air and spearing his boulder and throwing him out. Peck went out. Wright took McInnis, hitting the first ball pitched. Ruel up. Carey made a nice catch of Ruel's low fly. The Pirates were giving their pitcher fine support in the field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning

Sensors—Johnson up. Wright took Johnson's hopper back of second. Rice up. Wright took Rice's slow hopper and tossed him out. Stan Harris struck out, swinging for a third strike. It was his second strike-out of the game. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning

Sensors—It was now raining hard and the crowd was putting up umbrellas and the bleachers were covered themselves with newspapers. Goosin walked and the bases were still filled. Bluege up. Goosin scored on Bluege's sharp single to left, Harris going to third and Judge to second. Aldridge was then removed from the box and Morrison took his place. Bluege's hit struck near the top of the screen and was nearly a homerun. It was very dark but the Senators were not seem to have difficulty in following the course of the pitching. Morrison now pitching for the Pirates. Peck hit to Wright, who threw to first. Stan Harris went over and patted Peck on the back. Carey up. Moore scored on Carey's curve. Carey's third double, to left. The Senators protested that it was a foul ball, but the umpires would not allow it. Cuyler sacrificed, Johnson to Stan Harris, Carey going to third. The umpires have ruled that it is only a two-base hit. Carey went back to third. Barnhart fled to Stan Harris. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Eighth Inning

Sensors—Nidham went into the box for the Pirates and Higbee went to left field. Goosin went behind the bat for the Pirates. Rice tried to hunt. Rice struck out, taking a third called strike. He protested that the ball was low. Stan Harris up. Oldham was sweeping the plate with a curve. Goosin kicked on a called strike and the crowd howled. Goosin fanned, taking a third called strike. No runs, no hits, no errors.

The Pirate infield was in on the grass. Judge hit a long one into right field. It was a foul. Rice scored when Judge walked and the bases were still filled. Bluege up. Goosin scored on Bluege's sharp single to left, Harris going to third and Judge to second. Aldridge was then removed from the box and Morrison took his place. THE Victoria High School rugby team will play Brentwood tomorrow, in the event of the weather conditions permitting, on the High School's new ground. Should the ground still be too hard for rugby, the game will be played on Wednesday of next week.

North Country Teams Will Battle In First Division English Soccer

Sunderland and Newcastle United Will Meet for Their First Encounter of Season, With the Outcome All Uncertainty Among Prophets

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A north country battle is scheduled for the First Division of the English Soccer League on Saturday, when Sunderland, who again assumed leadership of the Division by virtue of their victory over Bury on Wednesday, travel northward and engage Newcastle United for the first encounter between these teams this season. Few there be who will hazard a prediction with regard to the outcome of this contest for these northern fights are in a class all by themselves.

Nothing in the previous performances can serve to furnish the fans with any guidance for conjecture.

Two games are down for decision in the Metropolitan day after tomorrow, one at Highbury and the other at Upton Park. In the former Arsenal play Cardiff City and in the latter, West Ham are engaged with Sheffield United.

Difficult Comparison

It is difficult to find a basis for comparison between them unless the fact that each club has played West Ham twice. Cardiff lost both games while Arsenal won them.

The third Metropolitan club, Tottenham Hotspur, travel to Old Trafford, where they will take on Manchester United. Of the two Manchester teams the United have a better record than City, and it is possible their victory over Newcastle a week ago may have inspired them to continue in the winning direction.

A Midlands battle is slated for Saturday at Villa Park, where the home team play Birmingham. Aston Villa leaped into leadership of the league last Saturday, when they defeated Leicester City, but were overtaken again by Sutherland in mid-week.

Other scheduled encounters are: Blackburn at Bolton, Everton at Burnley, Huddersfield at Leeds, West Bromwich at Leicester, Manchester City at Liverpool, Bury at Nottingham.

Sunday School Basketball

Leagues Start November 1—J. O. McMurchie Elected President at Enthusiastic Meeting

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Sunday School Athletic Association held last night at the Y.M.C.A., preparations were made for the opening of the basketball leagues on or about November 1.

Bob Whyte was unable to accept the position of president to which he was elected last week. J. O. McMurchie was duly elected to the position by acclamation and Norman Redman was elected vice-president. The secretary, Cyril Turner, reports a larger number of entries than last season and a successful year is looked for.

Fairfield Church, who have not been represented in Sunday school basketball for several seasons, are back again this year with four teams and promise to make things lively. St. Saviour's, of Victoria West, and Hustlers, of the City Temple, are new entries this season.

Play will get under way early next month, and some keen competition is expected.

The senior men's league will likely have First Presbyterians, James Bay, Metropolitan, Otago and St. Andrew's teams entered.

The senior girls' league will have several new entries this year, and promises to be exciting.

Entries in the intermediate "A" and intermediate "B" boys' divisions will be more numerous than ever.

while there will be dozens of junior teams in action.

Several amendments were made to the constitution at last night's meeting and copies will be printed and distributed shortly.

Entries will not be finally closed until tomorrow night, as there are one or two of the outlying districts yet to report.

The schedule committee will meet next week and arrangements will be made for the early commencement of league games.

J. D. McMurchie, the newly elected president, is well known to local followers of basketball and is quite enthusiastic over the prospects for the coming season.

Frank Hunter, as chairman of the basketball committee, will occupy one of the most important offices in the association and one that entails plenty of work and responsibility.

Any entries not yet in may be sent to the secretary, Cyril Turner, c/o Y.M.C.A., on or before 10 p.m. tomorrow.

Last Year's Melon Proved Very Juicy

Was Baseball's Second Million-Dollar Series When Washington Walloped Giants

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Baseball's second million dollar series came into being in 1924 when the Washington Senators defeated the New York Giants in four of seven games for the world's title.

Despite the fact that the attendance was almost 20,000 smaller than in 1923 when the entire six-game series was played in New York's gigantic parks, the total revenue reached the record of $1,092,104, as against $1,063,815 received the previous year.

At that, the attendance was the second largest in the history of the game for a series, eclipsing that of the eight-game all-Polo Grounds classic of 1921, when 269,877 were entertained. The Giants and Senators performed before 282,695 in seven contests.

Forbes Field at Pittsburgh, where the National League half of the series is being played this year, cares for about 45,000 when temporary seats are constructed, about 5,000 less than the Polo Grounds' capacity.

New York's 1923 series still holds the record for single day attendance, with 62,817 at the Yankee Stadium for the fifth game, while fully 50,000 others clamored for admittance. This receipts for this contest were $201,459, more money than reached the coffers from the full six-game series of 1918, the year in which the Red Sox defeated the Cubs.

Following is the detailed disposition of last year's receipts:

Players' share	$331,092.51
Washington Americans' share	148,991.63
New York Nationals' share	99,327.75
Second place teams' share (New York and Brooklyn) each	24,831.94
Third place teams' share (Detroit and Pittsburgh) each	16,554.42
Each club's share	149,511.48
Each league's share	149,511.47

Cougars to Tour Eastern Hockey Centres Shortly

Lester Patrick Will Lead World Champions Against Three Clubs Prior to Season Opening Here

Team Assembles in 'Peg

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—According to reports published in local newspapers Lester Patrick, owner and manager of the Victoria Cougars, world champion hockey team, has completed plans for a tour of Eastern Canada in November.

The Cougars are scheduled to play two games in Toronto, one in Montreal, and one or two in Ottawa.

LADY BYNG
Wife of the Governor-General of Canada, at whose special request arrangements have been made for the Victoria Cougars to play one or two exhibition games in Ottawa before the regular season opens.

The games here are being held at the request of Her Excellency Lady Byng of Vimy and the Ottawa club has agreed to turn over its share of the profits to the Ottawa Humane Society of which she is a patron, and in which she takes a great interest.

This dispatch from Ottawa, which was received here yesterday morning, was pronounced by Lester Patrick as being correct, and he will shortly prepare for the tour which will cover Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa, and if time will permit, perhaps Pittsburgh and Minneapolis.

Lester proposes assembling his cohorts, who last season brought the coveted Stanley Cup and the world's hockey championship to Victoria, in Winnipeg, and after a brief training period, they will set out on their Eastern expedition. He will be a busy man the next few weeks, getting his players signed, and in shape so that the Capital City of this Province will be ably represented when the Cougars tackle the puck-chasers in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The games in Eastern Canada between the Stanley Cup champions and the clubs of Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal will likely be played between the middle and end of November. These contests should put the Victoria sextette in good form for their initial appearance on the Coast in the early December nights.

Local fans are getting ready for the big hockey season on the Pacific Coast this year, and with the return of the Portland Rosebuds, under the direction of Pete Muldoon, in the circuit, added interest is being manifested. Lester is going to give Victoria a big team again, and his boys will try to be in the spotlight the whole way, if effort and determination have anything to do with it.

Lynch and Foley Will Meet Tonight

Champion Has Twice Lost Decisions to California Joe—Interest Aroused

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—California Joe Lynch, the fly in Vic Foley's Pacific Coast championship ointment, arrived here the other day and settled down at once to getting in his finishing his training for his battle with Vic at the Vancouver Arena, Friday night.

Lynch is the one Pacific Coast boy near the weight who seems able to keep Foley on the retreat. In four stirring battles, Foley has been unable to get the best of it and went so far as to lose the decision in two of the arguments in the squared circle.

Lynch seems to be Foley's jinx for sure; but Foley is determined to wipe Lynch off the pugilistic map and eliminate him as a Coast championship contender Friday night in their fifth meeting.

Lynch is in the greatest shape of his career, and with a number of big matches coming up in California, can ill afford to drop a verdict to Foley at this stage of the game; so he is also very determined that Foley will not beat him.

Never have two, boys trained with greater desire to win than Lynch and Foley have been working for their coming ten-round fracas.

There is a great deal of interest being displayed in the match all over the Northwest, and a number of Seattle fans are coming North to take in Jack Allen's banner fight attraction.

Despite the fact that Lynch has defeated him twice, Foley's backers predict that the great little Canadian champion will make good this time, and erase all of the stigma of previous defeats.

Tolley Decides to Stay by His Golf

Has Taken Off Fourteen Pounds by Tennis of Sorts—Now Back on His Game

GLENEAGLES, Scotland, Oct. 15.—Cyril Tolley, the big bambino of British golf, is not going to give up that game for lawn tennis, after all. Perhaps it is just as well for the peace of a mind so accustomed to the delights of victory as his.

In one day, Tolley set new amateur records for both golf courses at Gleneagles and so won the annual "Silver Tassie" competition. Then he turned to the lawn tennis tournament and was put out in the second round by an almost unknown player.

In the "Silver Tassie" competition, Tolley turned in a card of 71 in the morning over the King's course and then scored a 70 in the afternoon on the Queen's course, both of them among the finest inland golf layouts in the world. His total of 141 was nine strokes under that of the runner-up, Robert Harris, the amateur champion.

Not long ago Tolley almost turned the country upside down by announcing that he was going to give up golf and devote himself to lawn tennis. It was one asked to believe, a patriotic gesture, the ponderous prodigy Mr. Tolley having decided to concentrate his athletic prowess to retrieving some of the prestige his homeland has lost in international tennis. The press treated his decision as a thing of tremendous national importance.

Grave editorials were written in all the papers and many magazines, humorists and cartoonists furnished some comic relief, and some sports reporters seemed unable to get the topic off their minds.

But now, tennis having secured his weight by fourteen pounds and by thus improving his condition, bettered his golf, Tolley has decided to keep on with both sports, being a man with plenty of leisure.

Mr. Neill Defines An "Independent"

Declares Freedom From Caucus and Party Funds Constitutive Definition

COURTENAY, B. C., Oct. 15.—There was a large attendance in the Galet Theatre on Tuesday night to hear the address of Mr. A. W. Neill, the independent candidate for the Comox-Alberni riding in the Dominion Parliament.

The platform was occupied by Mr. W. A. Urquhart, who was chairman on this occasion and who introduced Mr. Neill to the audience, and Messrs. R. U. Hurford, J. W. McKenzie, Jr., and Alex. Chelard. In his introductory remarks the chairman brought to the minds of those present how Mr. Neill had spoken to them in the same place four years previously, and how since then Mr. Neill had become an outstanding member in the Federal House.

Mr. Neill said that an independent candidate had a hard row to hoe and the work was very far from being all beer and skittles. He spent some time in explaining his actions during the last four years as member in the House with a view of proving his independence. The real test of an independent member was, he thought, by the non-payment of election campaign expenses from party funds, and the non-attendance of party caucus. Referring to Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen's advertised visit to the district which did not materialize, he expressed regret that the leader of the Conservative party did not come to this district because "he would have spoken as to my integrity and sincerity in the House," said the speaker, and added: "Mr. Meighen would doubtless have attacked me, but it would have been in a very different way from that of Mr. Lader," whose attack the speaker termed most unfair.

Mr. Neill took Mr. Lader's charges one by one and dealt with them to the apparent satisfaction of the large audience.

He reviewed the old platform and explained the various planks and results during his term of office.

Chinese Eggs
He dealt at some length with the Asiatic question and showed in the matter of Chinese eggs that some progress had been made for the protection of B.C. markets. The Japanese situation was not quite so satisfactory, owing to diplomatic relations. Referring to the soldier settlement question, he showed how payments had been extended over a period of twenty-five years, $10,000,000 in interest remitted, and a twenty and forty per cent rebate on stock allowed the settler.

Economic Rates
Economy had been effected by the withdrawal of the Canadian N.W. M.P. from this district and elsewhere. He described the present freight situation as outrageous, saying that the effect was that wheat can now be bought in China cheaper than in British Columbia. This was a result of the export freight rates which he termed a very poor method.

Legislation had tended to benefit B.C. regarding duty on fuel oil, coal, etc. He had perhaps put B.C. interests before those of the Dominion when in the House, and this may have been selfish, "but," said the speaker, "don't be afraid of that, the Eastern manufacturers of Quebec and Ontario have lots of representation at Ottawa."

He assured his audience that the Prairies were absolutely opposed to protection. He was not, however, opposed especially if to foster the commencement of industries.

He was applauded when he told the audience that the reduction of the duty on logging machinery would cause American and other companies to come to B.C. "We have heard a lot about people leaving the country and cries of blue ruin," and the speaker thought that if many had really left the district they must have taken their houses with them, for it was impossible in some places to rent houses for love or money. He showed by a comparison of estimates, compared from year to year, that conditions were actually better now than formerly; even Mr. Meighen had admitted reduced taxation, he said.

He was willing to vote for an increase on the duty on eggs provided the measure was not wrapped up with other things.

Foreshore Rights
At question time, in answer to Mr. A. M. Hilton, the speaker explained the necessary formalities to be gone through for the leasing of foreshore rights.

Liberal Candidate To Speak Wednesday

Mr. T. B. Booth Will Be Speaker at Ladysmith—Resident Back From France

LADYSMITH, Oct. 15.—Mr. T. B. Booth, the Liberal candidate for Nanaimo riding in the forthcoming election, will give his supporters and others interested in the political campaign an opportunity of hearing the platform which he wants them to support on Wednesday evening in the Opera House. He is a very busy man this month, and was visiting some of his friends in this city.

Mr. L. Groulx, who has recently returned from a trip to France, where he spent the summer, accompanied by his wife, reports that the cost of living in that country is extremely high in proportion to the prices paid in British Columbia. Some of the most staple things are being sold at luxury prices.

Social Activities for Winter Season at Deep Cove Planned

DEEP COVE, Oct. 15.—The members and friends of the social club are holding the first dance of the season in the club hall Friday evening, and have engaged the services of Fidler's three-piece orchestra for the occasion. There is no doubt that the affair will be very well patronized, and a cordial invitation is being issued to the general public to be guests of the club for this event.

The local branch of the Navy League holding a concert and dance in the club hall, Friday, October 23, under Lieut.-Com. Cosette, R.C.N., assisted by several prominent artists of Victoria, will render a very excellent and varied programme, which will be followed by a dance. The officers of this branch of the league have gone to considerable expense in arranging this affair, and it is hoped that their efforts will be rewarded by a good attendance.

The usual weekly card party in connection with the club was held on Monday evening in the club hall, the winners of the prizes for highest score being Mrs. E. Beattie, ladies; and Mr. Geo. Sangster, gentlemen. It is expected that the newly formed bridge club will commence play Monday evening with a cordial invitation extended to all lovers of bridge to be present, when a schedule for the winter will be drawn up.

The local registrar of voters in this part of the riding, Mr. J. M. Copithorne, will close the lists Monday next, and an appeal is made to all residents to make application before this date.

Personal Notes
Mrs. J. Peck, who has been visiting friends in Vancouver for the last few weeks, is expected home some time next week.

Mr. C. Bassett, who has been visiting the Cove for the last few days, has returned to Victoria.

Whenever an ocean liner nears the Quebec Bridge over the St. Lawrence, passengers and crew hurry to the decks to witness what is probably the most amazing optical illusion that Canada affords. How are the towering masts and funnels going to pass under the bridge? It looks as if the whole upper works of the ship will surely be shorn off. The nearer the approach to the bridge the more certain appears the catastrophe. The sailors add to the terror of nervous passengers by such remarks as: "We just missed it last time. Looks like we are in for it today." Then just as everyone holds his breath for the crash the liner glides under the bridge with several feet to spare. The thrill is over.

Many Bush Fires Around Ladysmith

LADYSMITH, Oct. 15.—There are a great many bush fires raging in the district, which are unusually late this season, owing to the extremely dry spell which has been experienced for the past four months. The bush and underbrush are in such a condition that a trifling thing may cause disastrous fires and loss to property owners. Some fires have occurred with a purpose of clearing land, and then, with a wind blowing, have not been able to control the flames. They have narrowly escaped destruction.

Protection Policy Is Not a Cure-All
Liberal Speakers at Gordon Head Maintain That Protection Means Stagnation

Despite the heavy fog, a considerable number of electors of the Gordon Head district turned out last night to attend the Liberal meeting held in the Gordon Head Hall in the interests of Mr. T. B. Booth, Liberal candidate in the Nanaimo riding. Three speakers outlined the various aspects of the Liberal platform and dealt with some of the issues of the day, the tariff question, freight rates and immigration.

Mr. D. Ramay, the first speaker, dealt particularly with the tariff in its relation to the cost of living, and claimed that increased tariff meant invariably increased living cost. He answered numerous questions from members of the audience, and quoted from the statements made by the national committee connected with the national banks of the United States to prove the growth of a conviction in that country that the high protection policy must be abandoned if property was to be maintained.

Mr. N. W. Whitaker, confined his address almost exclusively to the freight rates issue and quoted from an editorial in The Montreal Star holding that the Eastern manufacturers were opposed to the equalization of freight rates. Although, he said, Rt. Hon. Mr. Meighen had stated recently that he was not opposed to equalization of rates or lowering of rates in the West, other parts of the Dominion, but only in the method whereby the Liberal Government had forced equalization, the manufacturers of Eastern Canada were opposed not only to method but in the results as well.

Mr. C. H. O'Halloran dealt with conditions as they existed in the United States. He declared that things were not so rosy there as they had been painted by Conservative speakers, and that there existed a growing movement towards abandonment of that country's high protection policy. Referring specifically to the textile industry in that country, Mr. O'Halloran declared that under high protection wages had decreased ten per cent; Eastern mills

Many Names Added To The Voters' Lists During Past Week

THE names of approximately two hundred Victoria voters were added to the local voters' list by the Court of Revision, presided over by Judge Lampman, during the past week. The court finished its hearing of applications Wednesday evening.

were curtailing production and reducing the number of their employees. United States farmers were also showing marked signs of dissatisfaction with the Fordney tariff law. There were 30,000 vacant farms in the Middle Western States, representing some 25,000,000 acres of land.

In the year 1924, he added, no less than 1,200,000 acres less than in 1923 were cultivated in the United States.

Dealing with statements made during campaign speeches by Hon. Dr. Toimie and Mr. C. H. Dickie to the effect that the United States owed its prosperity to high protection, the speaker challenged them to produce statements from one writer on political economy accepted as a standard authority by any university in Canada, who would maintain that high protection was solely responsible for the state of prosperity enjoyed by the United States.

High protection, Mr. O'Halloran maintained, was always followed by stagnation of industry, smaller employment and decreases in wages.

In conclusion, he dealt briefly with old age pensions, health insurance and accomplishments of the Liberal Government in solving returned soldier problems.

Mrs. Cora Reid, of Victoria, contributed several vocal numbers, playing her own piano accompaniment.

Drivers in East Saanich Road Accidents May Face Charge of Driving to the Common Danger

Mr. T. P. McConnell Hurt
Mr. Alex. Kersey, of Saanichton, driver of the truck which crashed into the Flying Line stage on the East Saanich Road at 9:45 o'clock yesterday morning, and Miss Lillian Brooks, of Stelly's Crossroads, who was saved from a serious accident by the timely intervention of Mr. T. P. McConnell, of 403 Linden Avenue, will likely face a charge of driving to the common danger, it was stated last night by Saanich Chief of Police Thomas Hastings.

Mr. T. P. McConnell, who was rushed to the St. Joseph's Hospital following the accident, was reported to be resting easier last night.

Mr. Kersey was proceeding northward along the East Saanich Road in his truck when his vehicle crashed into a southbound Flying Line stage at 9:45 o'clock. The accident occurred near the Keating telephone exchange.

Mr. McConnell was hunting in the vicinity and had come out onto the road when he saw Miss Brooks driving southward. In an attempt to prevent her colliding with the other two cars he rushed to the middle of the road and beckoned to Miss Brooks to stop. There was considerable fog at the time and as the brakes were applied the car skidded and knocked Mr. McConnell down.

The car in which Miss Brooks was driving left the road as it skidded, turned over and threw the driver out. Miss Brooks sustained slight injuries.

The Saanich police were called to the scene and after first aid was rendered to Mr. McConnell he was rushed to the St. Joseph's Hospital in Major Buck's car and attended to by Dr. Allan Fraser. It was found that one rib and one leg had been fractured.

Polling Figures Give Margin to Conservatives

Records of Past Elections in Victoria and Nanaimo Indicate Firm Strength of Conservative Candidates

Victoria Is Stronghold

According to the campaign managers for Hon. Dr. S. F. Toimie, Conservative candidate in Victoria, and Mr. C. H. Dickie, Conservative candidate in the Nanaimo riding, the only uncertainty about the forthcoming election is the size of the majorities their principals will poll. Major Gus Lyons, manager for Dr. Toimie, believes the doctor will come out of the contest with a lead of at least 2,000 over his Liberal opponent, Mr. William Ivel. Captain W. J. Cox, manager for Mr. Dickie, believes his principal will pile up a majority of at least 2,000 over Mr. T. B. Booth, the Liberal candidate.

In the 1921 election, when Dr. Toimie was elected in Victoria by a majority of nearly 2,500 over Mr. Ivel, he carried every single ward in the city. He secured a total of 7,430 votes, compared to Mr. Ivel's 4,993. A total of 219 votes were split, so that, altogether, the total votes polled in that election by Victorians was 12,433.

Mr. Dickie was elected in Nanaimo over two opponents, Mr. T. B. Booth, representing the Liberals, and Mr. Pritchard, the Socialist, with a plurality of 2,710. The figures were: Mr. Dickie, 4,897 votes; Mr. Booth, 4,189; Mr. Pritchard, 3,958; total votes polled, 13,044.

Transvaal's Failure at Newmarket Race Breaks Heart of Horseman

MAISON LAFITTE, France, Oct. 15.—Failure of the race horse Transvaal to win the Cesarewitch stakes at Newmarket, England, yesterday, running unplaced, broke the heart of his trainer, Vasili Wadonsky, who committed suicide by hanging upon his return from England this morning. Transvaal won the Grand Prix de

You'll agree that Chase & Sanborn's SEAL BRAND Coffee Is more Delicious than any other

In the riding of Comox-Alberni, where the present independent candidate, Mr. A. W. Neill, was elected, a total of 3,245 votes were polled. Mr. Neill secured 1,867, Mr. H. S. Clements, the Conservative candidate, 1,115, and Mr. Arniehaw, Labor-Farmer candidate, 163. Reports from the riding on the progress of the present contest, which is a straight fight between Mr. Neill, independent with Liberal backing, and Mr. Thomas Coldcutt, candidate of the Conservative Party, indicate a strong chance of opinion.

Probably the best indication of party strength in the city of Victoria at the present time is contained in the figures for the last provincial election, held on June 29, 1924, when the Conservative candidates, Messrs. Hayward, Hinchliffe, Twigg and Lyons, won every seat. On that occasion Mr. Hayward polled 6,006 votes; Mr. Hinchliffe, 5,372; Mr. Twigg, 5,548, and Major Lyons, 5,166; a total vote for the Conservatives of 22,692. The four Liberal candidates polled the following vote: Dr. Haynor, 4,002; Fremier Oliver, 3,875; Mr. Drake, 3,428, and Mr. Clearhue, 3,351, or a total of 14,656. The four Provincial Party candidates in the contest scored as follows: Mr. Woodward, 2,862; Mr. Todd, 2,337; Mr. Smith, 2,105, and Mr. Wright, 1,955; a total of 8,759 votes. Three Labor candidates polled the following: Mrs. Graves, 1,015; Mr. Hawthornthwaite, 887; Mr. Pierce, 750; a total of 2,652 votes. Mr. J. North, independent, polled 1,582. Of the 59,771 votes polled by all the candidates, the four Conservatives secured 22,692, and all other candidates, 27,479.

Trainer Hangs Self When Horse Loses

He is Mr. A. E. Kunderd, gladiolus king, whose experimentation in their culture has brought him worldwide fame among horticulturists and a fortune, too.

The developer of more varieties of gladiolus than any other man, Mr. Kunderd says he is just beginning to exploit the possibilities of the flower, which attracted him forty years ago.

Masterpiece Produced
Less than a score of years ago, gladiolus were rare. Few fine varieties were available. Kunderd's methods of selection and his matings presently began to produce new and choicer varieties, laying the foundation of the production finally of the ruffled gladiolus, his masterpiece. It is a type with beautiful ruffled petals, and its introduction was a horticultural sensation.

He has a more far-flung goal, however, than being a gladiolus producer. He wants to see in his lifetime a flower garden in the yard of every U.S. home. That will be a reality, he believes, within the next ten years.

Many Awards Won
In the national and western gladiolus expositions this year, at Rochester, N.Y., and Des Moines, Ia., Mr. Kunderd won more than three-fourths of the total awards. From almost every country horticulturists have come to his farm of several hundred acres to take back his methods of gladiolus hybridization and specimens of the flowers.

Stock Prices Running Wild At New York

Fifty Issues Lifted to New High Levels—$1,500,000 Deal Is Made in Steel Shares

Trading History Is Made

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Speculation for the rise continued to run riot in today's stock market, upward of fifty issues breaking through to new high levels for the year.

With the exception of one day last Fall, it was the largest single day's volume of business since December 21, 1916, when total transactions exceeded 5,000,000 shares following the peak on President Wilson's peace note to Germany. Net gains in the active issues ranged from one to fourteen points.

Bullish enthusiasm was stirred by reports of hardening steel prices and increasing mill operations and favorable dividend and recapitalization rumors affecting several of the large industrial companies.

U. S. Steel Higher.—The sudden revival of activity and strength in United States steel common which touched a new high on the current movement at 125 1/2 did much to stimulate the demand for other industrial issues. One block of 12,000 shares of steel changed hands at 125, representing a single transaction of $1,500,000.

Motors took on a new lease of life under the leadership of General Motors which soared seven points to a new high record of 124.

United Cigar Stores led another advance in tobacco by touching a new top at 39 1/2.

Among Admitted to Trading.—Armour "B," which was admitted to trading today after having been dealt in on the curb market, touched a new top at 36.

Non-ferrous metal stocks also gave another good demonstration of group strength.

Call money renewed at 5 1/4 per cent, then advanced to 5 1/2. Time money and commercial paper rates unchanged.

Total sales were 2,545,000 shares. With speculative interest absorbed almost entirely in stock trading the bond market today marked time.

Price fluctuations were narrow and irregular with the foreign list supplying the only development of interest.

Announcements of Germany's intention to the neutral pact and the Locomotive conference stimulated heavy buying of the German obligations listed on the exchange.

Migration Is Great Need of Canada Today

So Says Mr. G. B. Woods,
Who Has Been Interviewing Premiers of Prairie
Provinces

Settling the British Born

The problem of migration is one of the most important issues facing Canada today, and the Anglican Church is anxious to take her full share in helping the new settler to become accustomed to his new home, says Mr. George B. Woods, of Toronto, president and general manager of the Continental Life Insurance Company, who was in the city yesterday, having just completed an important mission with regard to immigration on the Prairies.

As lay delegate of the General Synod, Mr. Woods accompanied Bishop Bidwell to England to discuss the subject with heads of the church there. Bishop Bidwell's report was recently telegraphed all over Canada, owing to the fact that the bishop sought to show how ignorant many British people were of Canada.

Direct Prairie Representative
Mr. Woods' present journey has been directed with the special purpose of inducing, if possible, the three Prairie provinces, either individually or collectively, to place an agent-general in London, or some representative with similar powers, to serve as a clearing house for migration from Britain. He favored the scheme on similar lines to the work of Mr. H. C. Nixon for Ontario, and Mr. F. A. Pauline for British Columbia.

For that purpose he interviewed Premiers Bracken, Dunning and Greenfield, pointing out that what was needed was an official thoroughly posted on Prairie conditions on actual conditions in the Western provinces. On the Prairies some kind of a system was needed to meet the immigrants, to have someone show them how and what to do at their journey's end, and in that connection he pointed out what the Anglican Church was doing in its welfare and welcome committee.

Help Immigrants
These committees met the migrants and offered help. In spite of the radio, telephone, and other aids to communication, the Prairies appeared very lonely to people accustomed to large towns and urban conditions, and it was to help these people that the welcome committees existed.

He pointed out that any active policy of settling up the Prairies could not fail to aid British Columbia financially, and whatever party came in at the present election one of the first necessities was a sound, strong policy of immigration.

During his visit to the Old Country he had found considerable difficulty with convincing the British people of the great resources of the Dominion, he remarked. They must remember that Australia was making a very active bid, and that it had that individuality which made it a much less break for the Britisher newly settling there than Canada, which was following more and more in its social and economic life the standards of the United States.

Mr. Woods is conducting an inspection of his branches while in the West.

Hearty Welcome Assured General

Sir Arthur Currie Has Engagements Here on Monday and Tuesday

A hearty welcome awaits General Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill University, on his arrival in Victoria next week. Engagements for the popular war hero, who spent so many years of his life on Vancouver Island in teaching and in business, during which he laid the foundation for his military career, are already filling up.

General Currie, who gave the principal address, and had a degree conferred upon him at the opening of the new buildings of the University of B.C. yesterday at Vancouver, is expected here on Monday. Lady and Miss Currie accompany him.

For Monday he has accepted an invitation to address the McGill University graduates at the Empress Hotel at 12:15, and later to present scholarships at the Victoria Arts College at which ceremony Hon. J. D. Maclean, Minister of Education, is expected to attend.

On Tuesday the general will address a joint meeting of the men's and women's Canadian Clubs here at the Empress Hotel.

Sir Arthur delivered a very able speech to the students of McGill University this month on Founders Day, in which the duties of the Canadian college man to his country were stressed.

"The vital things in education," he said, "that make a people great, and that qualify a student to be a leader among free men are vision and judgment. They are not perhaps things that can always be taught by a college professor, except in a limited degree, but they are things which in a large measure can be learned by college students if they will set themselves industriously to work."

The first American warship, named the Enterprise, was in a fleet commanded by Brigadier-General Benedict Arnold.

"Only at the last moment have I received your card saying that our coffee circle would be held this afternoon."

"Quite possible. I didn't think the post would be so quick!"
